Tighter Compensation Law Gets GOP Backing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Senate Republicans, after hours of maneuvering and debate, have pushed through a bill to modify some of the liberalized workmen's compensation provisions adopted by a Democratic legislature in 1959.

The measure was sent to the House Wednesday night by a 19-12 party-line vote.

Republicans, during a nearly two-hour-long caucus, decided to submit three amendments to the highly technical bill. Two were adopted and one lost. Democrats made six attempts to amend the measure and were defeated each time.

After the Republican caucus, the main issue was never in doubt. Before the majority hashed the matter over, there were reports that two members were balking at some provisions.

In general, Republican-sponsored changes give employers wider latitude in appeals in workmen's compensation cases, permit them to withhold payments until appeals are decided and tighten up procedures in cases of suspected malingering.

Acting Minority Leader Charles J. Carney, representing both the Democratic and AFL-CIO point of view, told the Senate near the end of the super-heated debate:

"We have listened all afternoon to the legalistic aspects of human misery. . . . If this is the only way we can attract new industry to Ohio—through the blood and sweat of our workers—God pity us."

Chief backer of the change in workmen's compensation law is the Ohio Manufacturers Association with a large assist from the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

One feature of the bill on the plus side of the ledger for injured workers: It increases the maximum weekly compensation payment in short-term cases from $49 to $56 a week.

Before the big debate got under way, the Senate received a proposal from Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, to make a sort of open-ended lending process out of the highway bond issue adopted by the voters in 1963.

Railroad Strike Delayed 60 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of a nationwide railroad strike is off for at least 60 days with President Kennedy's assignment of a top level panel to help solve a long work rules controversy.

The President created the emergency board in what has become known as "the great featherbedding dispute" late Wednesday in an executive order under terms of the Railway Labor Act. This requires 30 days for the board to draft settlement proposals and another 30-day period for negotiations.

Neither side is bound to accept the settlement proposals, but such public findings in the past have usually become the basis for eventual solution. The betting odds in the rail industry against a strike are 100 to 1.

A spokesman for the five labor unions involved, representing some 200,000 on-train rail workers, said the unions "hope the emergency board will supply the necessary impetus toward collective bargaining" of the issues involved. There has been very little real bargaining so far in the four-year dispute.

Kennedy's three-man board, which will open hearings here a week from today is headed by Samuel I. Rosenman, former New York Supreme Court justice. He is a one-time counsel and chief speech writer for former President Franklin D. Roosevelt and later counsel to former President Harry S. Truman.

The other two board members are law Prof. Nathan Feinsinger of the University of Wisconsin and Chancellor Clark Kerr of the University of California.

The trio, especially Kerr and Feinsinger, have had wide experience in helping settle a variety of labor disputes for many years. Rosenman served on a government board that handed down recommendations leading to the adoption of company-paid pensions in the steel industry, a trend that spread to other industries.

A strike had been threatened early next Monday morning. That was the date the railroads had set for putting into effect the manpower cuts they have been trying to achieve for many years to eliminate what they say is "featherbedding" costing them some $600-million a year needless cost.

The unions have hotly disputed the carrier claims, maintaining the rail work force is the most efficient of any industry in the nation. The over-all total of rail workers has been cut nearly in half in a 15-year period, now being less than 700,000. The unions say the carriers want to pare this further to 350,000.

Ohio Security Sales Come Under Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission said today it has ordered an investigation into whether fraud was involved in the sale by Commonwealth Securities Corp., Columbus, Ohio, of stock in three firms.

A commission spokesman said a hearing will be scheduled later, probably in Cleveland.

The case, he said, involves sale by Commonwealth of stock in Certified Credit & Thrift Corp.

The spokesman said the inquiry will be to determine whether there was violation of the commission's anti-fraud provisions and whether Commonwealth's registration to sell securities in interstate commerce should be revoked.

He said the allegations of possible fraud involve misleading statements and violation of registration requirements of the commission.

The stock sales occurred mostly in 1961, he said.

Certified Credit Corp. of Columbus, parent company of 25 subsidiaries, now has its affairs in the hands of the U. S. District Court in Columbus. Commonwealth Securities Corp. has been listed as a stock-selling subsidiary of Certified Credit.

Attorneys for Certified Credit have filed petitions in federal court in Columbus asking appointment of a trustee or trustees who would have the powers of a receiver in equity as well as trustee in bankruptcy.

The petitions had listed debts totaling $846,357. As of last September, Certified credit had listed assets and liabilities of $13,235,674.

French Mine Accord Slaps At DeGaulle

PARIS (AP)—France's coal mines are expected to reopen this weekend, following settlement of the month-long miners' strike that gave President Charles de Gaulle his biggest home front setback since he returned to power in 1958.

The managers of the government-owned mines and the unions reached a compromise settlement Wednesday night. Quick ratification by leaders of the 170,000 miners in the coal basins was predicted.

Though the miners gave some ground in the settlement, De Gaulle's prestige had suffered. Early in the strike he ordered the men back to the pits under a requisition decree threatening them with dismissal, fines or jail. The miners defied the order. And other unions threatened a general strike, contending De Gaulle's decree abridged the right to strike. The government did nothing to enforce the order.

The miners had demanded an 11 per cent wage increase, a 40-hour week and a fourth week of vacation. The government offered a 5.7 per cent increase and a restudy of wage scales in September.

The agreement provides for a 6.5 per cent pay hike effective April 1 and periodic boosts until the total increase reaches 12.5 per cent next April 1. Union leaders said the fourth vacation week was assured and the work week reduction will be studied by a management-union conference.

Jail Chorus Pianist Misses First Concert

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sheriff William Cranfill thought it a good idea if prisoners at the Jefferson County Jail organized a chorus.

The 34 inmates made their first public appearance Wednesday night before a church group.

The sheriff apologized because they had to sing without a pianist. Their accompanist, he said, is a federal prisoner and couldn't be taken from jail for the concert.

Latest Argentine Revolution In Recess as Truce Is Talked

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's latest revolution went into recess today as loyalist military leaders discussed truce terms brought to Buenos Aires by the commander of the rebellious fleet.

Chiefs of the army and air force, backing the buffeted regime of President Jose Maria Guido, held a postmidnight conference after Defense Minister Juan Manuel Astigueta relayed cease-fire conditions laid down by Rear Adm. Eladio Vazquez, commander of the rebel fleet.

Loyalist army commander Juan Carlos Onganía told newsmen after the preliminary session: "I believe there is hope for a solution."

Informants said Vazquez had outlined in a 45-minute talk with Astigueta conditions under which the navy would withdraw from the revolt, now in its third day.

The death toll was placed unofficially at 26, including an armed civilian killed by an army patrol in the northern province of Jujuy. The army has warned repeatedly that any civilians caught with weapons, looting or staging demonstrations would be shot.

Shots rang out in Buenos Aires when loyalist leaders emerged from Government House after discussing the rebel truce terms, but no casualties were reported. A witness said the shots came from two speeding cars.

Each side claimed victory, but the situation was confused by conflicting reports.

Guido's government announced Wednesday that the rebels were surrendering after being pushed back in heavy fighting in the South.

The rebels promptly said Vazquez "is not coming to surrender. He will only negotiate a truce."

But AP Correspondent Robert Brerelle reported from the rebel-held naval base at Puerto Belgrano, 350 miles south of Buenos Aires, that officers and enlisted men appeared pessimistic.

The rebels said in a broadcast earlier that they would set up a new national regime in the port city of Bahia Blanca, adjoining Puerto Belgrano. But Capt. Kurt

Ohio Resource Chief Hints Of Cutback

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some changes, possibly including a reduction in personnel, seems in store for the Department of Natural Resources when its new director, Fred E. Morr, takes over April 16.

Morr, who moves into the job from his current post of director of agriculture, has instructed department administrators to hold up actions dealing with the budget and personnel until he takes over.

Morr said he plans to follow the administration's policy "which has become popular with the people" of introducing practices of economy and cost accounting procedures.

Currently, the department employs 1,140 people during the winter with a monthly payroll of $443,500. The figures jump to about 1,530 and $519,000 during the summer.

Morr said "we will follow Gov. Rhodes' austerity program and still give the people the services they expect from the department."

Bowling Green Area Explosion Kills Man

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth McBride, father of three, was killed early today as an explosion caused $10,000 damage to the chemical plant of the Brush Beryllium Co. at Elmore.

H. W. Schaffer, vice president and general manager, said a tank in the chemical plant exploded during a routine operation the company has been conducting for more than 15 years.

Dietrich, press chief at the base, told Berrellez no such government had been set up in the area.

The navy launched the revolt to oust Guido and cancel elections scheduled June 23 for a new president and Congress. The navy fears that followers of ex-Dictator Juan D. Peron—about a third of Argentina's voters—will gain control of the government.

U.S. Shelves Bid To Assure Negro Vote Registration

Greater Russian Pullout Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says 9,000 Soviet troops and technical experts have left Cuba since November—about 4,000 of them within the past six weeks.

Expressing hope of further withdrawals, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that a rough calculation indicates about 12,000 to 13,000 Soviet citizens remain in Cuba.

Kennedy also reiterated a previously expressed fear that hit and run raids against Cuban ports and Soviet shipping by anti-Castro exiles might prompt a dangerous cycle of mounting blows and counterblows, thus adding heat to the cold war.

Repeating a promise that the United States would do everything possible to prevent such raids from American soil, Kennedy suggested would-be raiders could do more for their Communist-dominated homeland by joining 400 to 500 survivors of the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion who have enlisted in the U.S. Army.

In the domestic area, the President obviously was primed for a question about former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's recent suggestion that Kennedy's record $98.9-billion budget could be cut by about $13 billion. Eisenhower was particularly critical of the costly space program.

Noting that Eisenhower "referred us to Maurice Stans, his budget director, for guidance," Kennedy jibed that during Stans' tenure the country had its largest peacetime deficit, its largest loss of gold, its highest peacetime unemployment plus two recessions.

"That is not a record that we plan to duplicate if we can help it," said Kennedy.

As for the space program, Kennedy suggested that Eisenhower long has opposed an effective effort to put the United States ahead of the Soviet Union in space. "It is a matter on which we disagree," he said.

Korean Chief Gets Warning

Leaders Fear U.S. To Curtail Its Aid

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Some of Gen. Chung Hee Park's advisers today were reported to be telling the Korean strong man that Washington may cut the flow of U.S. aid that keeps this nation's economy alive.

That was their reaction to what they considered an unusually strong stand by President Kennedy at his news conference in Washington Wednesday.

Informed sources, said, however, that these advisers have been unable to sway Park's decision to go ahead with military rule.

Kennedy said the United States hopes "a situation will develop which will permit the blossoming of democratic rule in South Korea. The President said "We indicated what our hopes are." He apparently referred to a letter he sent to Park Monday.

The only reaction to Kennedy's words came from a junta spokesman, Maj. Gen. Lee Hu-rak. Said Lee: "I welcome the Kennedy remarks as an extremely natural statement."

Many high-ranking officers surrounding Park are known to be urging continued military rule regardless of what the United States and the Korean people say.

But more moderate advisers are telling Park to go slowly. They argue that because of South Korea's position in U.S. anti-Communist strategy, the United States cannot push his regiment too far.

Civilian opponents of Park's regime welcomed Kennedy's statement as evidence that they are getting increased U.S. backing in the struggle to end military rule.

Generally, however, Kennedy's words were interpreted as merely intended to hold the line and reaffirm the U.S. position while backstage efforts continue to bring about a civilian-military compromise acceptable to the entire nation.

NEW YORK (AP)—An investigation is under way concerning a report that a bundle of rags consigned for shipment to Germany for use as shoeshine cloths contained many U.S. flags.

Joseph P. Kelly, collector of customs, ordered the probe.

The report came Wednesday from Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y. who said in a statement that the bundle was shipped by the Shenandoah Rag Co. of Shenandoah, Pa. The congressman said he was called in Washington by a longshoreman who told him the flags were found when the bundle had been opened inadvertently on a pier.

Murphy reported the bundle had been loaded aboard the American Pilot, a vessel of the United States Lines. A spokesman for the line said the American Pilot sailed for Germany March 31.

The proper method of disposing of American flags is by burning.

Jury Punishment Plan Is Rapped by Judge

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The way juries fix punishments for law violators is "like shooting craps," a judge on Kentucky's highest court says.

"The idea of sentencing is to deter crime and it's not been working too well in this country," Judge John Palmore of the State Court of Appeals told the Kentucky Bar Association Wednesday.

He said there was inequity of punishment by juries trying similar cases and also inequity from one area to another in the state. He suggested standardization of punishment.

Mississippi Dispute Aired

Integrationists Open Drive in Birmingham

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—The government today withdrew its request for a temporary restraining order in a Negro voter registration controversy. In return Greenwood officials agreed to stay the sentences of eight Negroes arrested in a demonstration last week.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Claude Clayton, who heard from both sides briefly in federal court in Greenville, scheduled a full hearing later on the government's request for a permanent injunction. The hearing is expected during the court's regular term in October.

The government is asking an order banning interference from Greenwood and Leflore County officials with Negroes registering to vote here.

The eight Negroes will be freed until Judge Clayton's final decision.

Nineteen Negroes marching to the Leflore County Courthouse to register Wednesday refused to obey police orders to disperse. Police grabbed them, pushed them into a bus and jailed them.

The court hearing was scheduled at Greenville, 75 miles away, by U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton of Tupelo, Miss., who earlier this week refused to issue an immediate injunction in the case until he could hear both sides.

Dick Gregory, Negro comic, who was left standing alone after the marchers were driven to jail, canceled his contracts and said he would remain in this Mississippi Delta cotton-raising area.

"I will stay here until the federal government does something about police brutality," said Gregory, "and allows these people to go to the courthouse to vote."

The federal government suit, filed last Saturday, also seeks release of eight Negroes jailed last week.

Police Chief Curtis Lary told Wednesday's marchers at least half a dozen times to disperse.

Logan Elm On Park List

One of Pickaway County's picnic and recreational facilities has been included in a list of 19 ordered closed under "money-saving" measures directed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

A 9.1 per cent cut in the budget of the Ohio Historical Society has forced the closing of picnic sites at Logan Elm Park, Pickaway Twp., and Cross Mound Park, near Tarlton in Fairfield County.

A spokesman for the Ohio Historical Society said today that the measure was taken due to the budget cut which would prohibit maintenance of the picnic areas.

The 19 parks will be maintained as historical attractions only, according to the society. Picnic tables reportedly are being removed.

Before the big debate got under way, the Senate received a proposal from Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, to make a sort of open-end lending process out of the highway bond issue adopted by the voters in 1953.

The bond issue in 1953 and the years following totaled $500 million. That issue is in the process of being paid off by funds provided by an axle-mile tax on big trucks and a special penny-a-gallon gasoline tax.

Hoffman wants to borrow another $200 million via the same bond route and to pay the money back by an extension of the same taxes.

The extra bond - issue money would be used to match federal funds available to help with construction of Ohio highways over the next three years.

Hoffman's proposal requires a three-fifths favorable vote of both houses of the legislature and a majority of the voters at next November's election.

Meanwhile, in the House, there was brewing an additional annual charge to motorists who have reserved license tags with special numbers or initials. Since the state lost about $15,000 last year in the process of issuing the special tags at a $1 premium for each of about 100,000 motorists, the House proposes a sliding annual charge for reserved plates to the next highest 25 cents of actual cost. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to give regional planning commissions countywide powers in eight counties containing five or more cities in order to prevent overlapping of city jurisdictions. Counties affected, if the Senate goes along with the bill, are Cuyahoga, Lorain, Lake, Summit, Stark, Franklin, Montgomery and Hamilton.

Gus says he always has corn by July 4, and if the weather is favorable, he should beat that date by several days.

FOOD for thought. . . What are the chances of naming Route 22 from Washington C. H. to Zanesville (with Circleville in between) the Sherman-Sheridan Highway? . .

American History students at Miami Trace High School in Fayette County think it's a good idea. . . In fact they are busy promoting such a memorial designation.

Class members have sent numerous letters to various cities along the portion of Route 22 involved. . .

William T. Sherman and Phillip H. Sheridan were famous Union generals during the Civil War. . . Gen. Sherman was born in Lancaster and Gen. Sheridan spent much of his boyhood in the Somerset (Perry County) area.

The Miami Trace students aim to contact state representatives, senators, the governor and other influential persons in promoting their memorial highway plan.

Bowling Green Area Explosion Kills Man

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth McBride, father of three, was killed early today as an explosion caused $10,000 damage to the chemical plant of the Brush Beryllium Co. at Elmore.

H. W. Schaffer, vice president and general manager, said a tank in the chemical plant exploded during a routine operation the company has been conducting for more than 15 years.

High School Girl Is Star of Circus

NEW YORK (AP)—An 18-year-old blue-eyed blonde—admittedly nervous—made circus history in the center ring Wednesday night.

Vicki Unus, featured as La Toria, made her New York debut as a star performer in the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, in which her father also stars.

She came direct from high school into the big show, said Franz F. Unus proudly. "It's never happened before."

Few in the opening night audience knew that the aerialist who twisted through 110 electrifying giant swings was the daughter of the man who balances himself on one finger.

But this is circus tradition. Frequently the following generation of an established circus name will take another name under which to perform.

U.S. Shelves Bid To Assure Negro Vote Registration

Greater Russian Pullout Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says 9,000 Soviet troops and technical experts have left Cuba since November—about 4,000 of them within the past six weeks.

Expressing hope of further withdrawals, Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that a rough calculation indicates about 12,000 to 13,000 Soviet citizens remain in Cuba.

Kennedy also reiterated a previously expressed fear that hit and run raids against Cuban ports and Soviet shipping by anti-Castro exiles might prompt a dangerous cycle of mounting blows and counterblows, thus adding heat to the cold war.

Repeating a promise that the United States would do everything possible to prevent such raids from American soil, Kennedy suggested would-be raiders could do more for their Communist-dominated homeland by joining 400 to 500 survivors of the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion who have enlisted in the U.S. Army.

In the domestic area, the President obviously was primed for a question about former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's recent suggestion that Kennedy's record $98.9-billion budget could be cut by about $13 billion. Eisenhower was particularly critical of the costly space program.

Noting that Eisenhower "referred us to Maurice Stans, his budget director, for guidance," Kennedy jibed that during Stans' tenure the country had its largest peacetime deficit, its largest loss of gold, its highest peacetime unemployment plus two recessions.

Huge Meat Supply Brings Drop in Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today blamed the declines in price of meat animals that started during the winter on a sharp increase in supply of meats—beef, pork and poultry.

A special report on the livestock situation laid no responsibility at the door of meat packers and processors. Some farm leaders and some members of Congress have been proposing investigations of the meat industry to find the cause of the price setbacks.

Here is a summary of the report:

"The recent price situation appears to be the result of a combination of factors: (1) A large increase in the volume of steer beef production from November to January; (2) Large supplies of pork in the first quarter of this year; (3) Increased broiler slaughter over a year earlier; (4) Prospects for continued large production of red meat; (5) The usual lag of retail prices behind those at wholesale."

It said the current outlook is for improvement in feed cattle prices in the last half of the year.

Woman Indicted For Slaying Mate

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—The Ross County Grand Jury indicted 44-year-old Mrs. Geneva A. Bush Wednesday for first-degree murder in connection with the shooting of her husband, Harvey, 44, last St. Patrick's Day.

The shooting followed an argument on the grounds of a rural school. The husband died the day following the shooting.

The grand jury also returned an indictment charging second-degree manslaughter against Douglas Scott, 32, of near Chillicothe, in the Christmas eve traffic death of Richard Bell, 37, of Chillicothe. Mrs. Otto E. Hachworth of Columbus was injured fatally in the same traffic accident.

Mississippi Dispute Aired

Integrationists Open Drive in Birmingham

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—The government today withdrew its request for a temporary restraining order in a Negro voter registration controversy. In return Greenwood officials agreed to stay the sentences of eight Negroes arrested in a demonstration last week.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Claude Clayton, who heard from both sides briefly in federal court in Greenville, scheduled a full hearing later on the government's request for a permanent injunction. The hearing is expected during the court's regular term in October.

The government is asking an order banning interference from Greenwood and Leflore County officials with Negroes registering to vote here.

The eight Negroes will be freed until Judge Clayton's final decision.

Nineteen Negroes marching to the Leflore County Courthouse to register Wednesday refused to obey police orders to disperse. Police grabbed them, pushed them into a bus and jailed them.

The court hearing was scheduled at Greenville, 75 miles away, by U.S. Dist. Judge Claude F. Clayton of Tupelo, Miss., who earlier this week refused to issue an immediate injunction in the case until he could hear both sides.

Dick Gregory, Negro comic, who was left standing alone after the marchers were driven to jail, canceled his contracts and said he would remain in this Mississippi Delta cotton-raising area.

"I will stay here until the federal government does something about police brutality," said Gregory, "and allows these people to go to the courthouse to vote."

The federal government suit, filed last Saturday, also seeks release of eight Negroes jailed last week.

Police Chief Curtis Lary told Wednesday's marchers at least half a dozen times to disperse.

U.S. Flags Said Destined To Be Shoeshine Cloths

NEW YORK (AP)—An investigation is under way concerning a report that a bundle of rags consigned for shipment to Germany for use as shoeshine cloths contained many U.S. flags.

Joseph P. Kelly, collector of customs, ordered the probe.

The report came Wednesday from Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., who said in a statement that the bundle was shipped by the Shenandoah Rag Co. of Shenandoah, Pa. The congressman said he was called in Washington by a longshoreman who told him the flags were found when the bundle had been opened inadvertently on a pier.

Murphy reported the bundle had been loaded aboard the American Pilot, a vessel of the United States Lines. A spokesman for the line said the American Pilot sailed for Germany March 31.

The proper method of disposing of American flags is by burning.

Jury Punishment Plan Is Rapped by Judge

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The way juries give punishments for law violators is "like shooting craps," a judge on Kentucky's highest court says.

"The idea of sentencing is to deter crime and it's not been working too well in this country," Judge John Palmer of the State Court of Appeals told the Kentucky Bar Association Wednesday.

He said there was inequity of punishment by juries trying similar cases and also inequity from one area to another in the state. He suggested standardization of punishment.

Korean Chief Gets Warning

Leaders Fear U.S. To Curtail Its Aid

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Some of Gen. Chung Hee Park's advisers today were reported to be telling the Korean strong man that Washington may cut the flow of U.S. aid that keeps this nation's economy alive.

That was their reaction to what they considered an unusually strong stand by President Kennedy at his news conference in Washington Wednesday.

Informed sources, said, however, that these advisers have been unable to sway Park's decision to go ahead with military rule.

Kennedy said the United States hopes "a situation will develop which will permit the blossoming of democratic rule in South Korea. The President said "We indicated what our hopes are." He apparently referred to a letter he sent to Park Monday.

The only reaction to Kennedy's words came from a junta spokesman, Maj. Gen. Lee Hu-rak. Said Lee: "I welcome the Kennedy remarks as an extremely natural statement."

Many high-ranking officers surrounding Park are known to be urging continued military rule regardless of what the United States and the Korean people say.

But more moderate advisers are telling Park to go slowly. They argue that because of South Korea's position in U.S. anti-Communist strategy, the United States cannot push its regime too far.

Civilian opponents of Park's regime welcomed Kennedy's statement as evidence that they are getting increased U.S. backing in the struggle to end military rule.

Generally, however, Kennedy's words were interpreted as merely intended to hold the line and reaffirm the U.S. position while backstage efforts continue to bring about a civilian-military compromise acceptable to the entire nation.

Logan Elm On Park List

One of Pickaway County's picnic and recreational facilities has been included in a list of 19 ordered closed under "money-saving" measures directed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

A 9.1 per cent cut in the budget of the Ohio Historical Society has forced the closing of picnic sites at Logan Elm Park, Pickaway Twp., and Cross Mound Park, near Tarlton in Fairfield County.

A spokesman for the Ohio Historical Society said today that the measure was taken due to the budget cut which would prohibit maintenance of the picnic areas.

The 19 parks will be maintained as historical attractions only, according to the society. Picnic tables reportedly are being removed.

Columbus Man Arrested after Speedy Chase

A Columbus resident, Joseph E. Giffin, 26, apprehended by Circleville Police following a wild chase through the city and north on Route 23, was cited into Municipal Court today on five counts.

Giffin was found guilty of leaving the scene of an accident, reckless operation, resisting arrest, passing on the right and disregarding a red light. Judge Sterling Lamb levied fines totaling $400, sentenced him to six months in the county jail and ordered his driver's rights suspended for one year.

City Patrolman Richard Blaney first saw the auto driven by Giffin, apparently exceeding the speed limit, traveling north on Pickaway St.

He gave chase, making a number of unsuccessful attempts to stop the vehicle.

WHEN Giffin reached the junction of Route 23 and County Road 511, he passed a truck driven by William Harmon, 37, of Route 3, on the right. The car struck the right front fender of the truck as he cut back in.

Harmon was injured slightly and treated at Berger Hospital.

Giffin was eventually apprehended two miles north of South Bloomfield by Sgt. Leroy Hawks, Patrolmen Jack Mills and Blaney.

The three passengers in the automobile were Mahlon Spears, 18, Junior Spears, 17, and Dean Rutter, 22, all of Glouster. No charges were filed against them.

In other city court action David L. Blankenship, 24, of Stephenson, W. Va., signed a waiver and paid a $15 fine for speeding 50 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone.

Janitor Freed In Blast Case

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A janitor who was fired shortly before a boiler blew up killing five persons and injuring 69 was freed from a charge of involuntary manslaughter Wednesday.

Assistant Santa Clara County Dist. Atty. Harry Parker asked that the charge against Ricardo Mello, 27, be dismissed. San Jose Municipal Judge Grandin Miller freed Mello, who had been arrested following the March 28 blast in the basement of a J. C. Penney department store in San Jose.

The grand jury had refused to indict Mello after hearing evidence.

Parker said Mello admitted leaving some open valves on the boiler when he walked off the job but denied any intention of causing any damage.

State inspectors said Mello's actions did not necessarily cause the blast.

20 Woodcutters Face Mass Trial

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (AP)—Twenty independent woodcutters bade tearful farewells to their families Wednesday night and moved into a former prisoner of war camp to await trial for the slaying of three striking union workers Feb. 10.

The settlers range in age from 18 to 59. The trial is expected to take place in October.

The shootings occurred at near-by Reesor Siding when a mob of striking union loggers charged the settlers, who were supplying logs to strikebound paper and pulp mills.

The men will be tried for non-capital murder, which does not carry the death penalty.

Juvenile Court Jury To Be Drawn

Prospective jurors will be drawn April 20 for a Pickaway County Juvenile Court hearing scheduled April 29.

Jurors' names will be drawn by juror commissioners J. Ludwig Haacker and K. E. Dountz at 10 a. m. The jury is believed to be the first for the local juvenile court.

The hearing involves bastardy charges against a local juvenile.

He said they would not be stopped if they scattered.

"We will not disperse," defiantly replied Ida Hallen, 18, a Greenwood girl at the forefront of the marchers.

Then uniformed officers, aided by auxiliary policemen with riot sticks, began rounding up the group.

Meanwhile, integration leaders have begun an all-out campaign to tear down racial barriers in Birmingham, Ala.

The campaign erupted Wednesday as 21 Negroes were arrested at downtown department stores on charges stemming from attempted sit-in demonstrations at lunch counters.

At a meeting Wednesday night a Negro integration leader set the stage for the announcement that Birmingham is now the center of integration efforts in the South.

"When you're squeezed on both sides, it's hell," said the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights. He said he was referring to white persons who are trying to keep the Negroes shackled and to Negroes who are willing to remain in their present status.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and the chief deputies—the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy—arrived in time to address the gathering.

King told the 400 cheering, hymn-singing Negroes that he was here to stay. He promised a fight to the end—until racial barriers are trampled in Birmingham.

"Birmingham is the most thoroughly segregated big city in the United States today," he declared. "All of our forces will be marshaled here to bring about a non-violent integration and recognition of human rights."

King said a mass meeting would be held nightly. He said there would be sit-ins, kneel-ins, picketing and every other form of non-violent demonstration until "pharaoh lets God's people go." Mass marches were in the planning stage, he said.

3 Training Schools Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland will get three new training and retraining schools and a fourth now in progress there will be extended four weeks, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has announced.

Willard P. Dudley, BUC administrator, said Wednesday Cleveland had been granted schools starting April 15 for training of clerk-typists, machine operators and transmission and differential repairmen. There will be room for 125 persons to take the training.

The school being extended is for training combination welders.

The BUC also announced the opening of new schools in St. Marys and Dayton.

A machine tool operators school is scheduled to run May 6 to Sept. 23 in St. Marys.

Classes for 25 draftsmen and detailers will begin in Dayton April 23, the BUC said.

U.S. Said Capable of Building Space Antisatellite Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay believes the United States could build an antisatellite right now that could be sent up into space to bring down a hostile, weapon-carrying satellite.

But the Air Force chief of staff says the idea for this defensive system is only in the study stage, that "it is not a full-fledged program."

LeMay's views on this and other aspects of space war were given last month to the Senate Armed Services Committee. A censored version of the testimony was released today.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., asked LeMay whether the Soviet Union had demonstrated a capability for satellite interception and if so what were the military implications.

The air chief replied by recalling the simultaneous flight of two Soviet astronauts last year. The reported proximity of their satellite indicates a technical capability for rendezvous, LeMay said.

Seven Plead Innocent at Arraignments

All seven persons indicted by the April term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury entered pleas of innocent today during an arraignment session in the Common Pleas Courtroom.

Two men, indicted for robbery, pleaded guilty to lesser charges of assault and battery. They were sentenced during the session that got under way about 45 minutes late.

Harry Margulis, Ashville, attorney, represented Ellsworth and William Rowland. Each was handed a one-year probationary sentence by Judge William Ammer for the assault and battery offense.

Pleading innocent to the grand jury indictments were: John Piccione, failure to provide for his minor children; Bernard Ray Davis, forcible entry of an inhabited dwelling in the night season; and three Columbus men charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, Robert Monroe, George Hughes and James Thomas.

Trial dates will be scheduled for these pleading innocent to charges.

Columbus Man Arrested after Speedy Chase

A Columbus resident, Joseph E. Giffin, 26, apprehended by Circleville Police following a wild chase through the city and north on Route 23, was cited into Municipal Court today on five counts.

Giffin was found guilty of leaving the scene of an accident, reckless operation, resisting arrest, passing on the right and disregarding a red light. Judge Sterling Lamb levied fines totaling $400, sentenced him to six months in the county jail and ordered his driver's rights suspended for one year.

City Patrolman Richard Blaney first saw the auto driven by Giffin, apparently exceeding the speed limit, traveling north on Pickaway St.

He gave chase, making a number of unsuccessful attempts to stop the vehicle.

WHEN Giffin reached the junction of Route 23 and County Road 511, he passed a truck driven by William Harmon, 37, of Route 3, on the right. The car struck the right front fender of the truck as he cut back in.

Harmon was injured slightly and treated at Berger Hospital.

Giffin was eventually apprehended two miles north of South Bloomfield by Sgt. Leroy Hawks, Patrolman Jack Mills and Blaney.

The three passengers in the automobile were Mahlon Spears, 18, Junior Spears, 17, and Dean Rutter, 22, all of Gloucester. No charges were filed against them.

In other city court action David L. Blankenship, 24, of Stephenson, W. Va., signed a waiver and paid a $15 fine for speeding 50 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone.

Janitor Freed In Blast Case

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A janitor who was fired shortly before a boiler blew up killing five persons and injuring 69 was freed from a charge of involuntary manslaughter Wednesday.

Assistant Santa Clara County Dist. Atty. Harry Parker asked that the charge against Ricardo Mello, 27, be dismissed. San Jose Municipal Judge Grandin Miller freed Mello, who had been arrested following the March 28 blast in the basement of a J. C. Penney department store in San Jose.

The grand jury had refused to indict Mello after hearing evidence.

Parker said Mello admitted leaving some open valves on the boiler when he walked off the job but denied any intention of causing any damage.

State inspectors said Mello's actions did not necessarily cause the blast.

20 Woodcutters Face Mass Trial

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (AP)—Twenty independent woodcutters bade tearful farewells to their families Wednesday night and moved into a former prisoner of war camp to await trial for the slaying of three striking union workers Feb. 10.

The settlers range in age from 18 to 59. The trial is expected to take place in October.

The shootings occurred at near-by Reesor Siding when a mob of striking union loggers charged the settlers, who were supplying logs to strikebound paper and pulp mills.

The men will be tried for non-capital murder, which does not carry the death penalty.

Juvenile Court Jury To Be Drawn

Prospective jurors will be drawn April 20 for a Pickaway County Juvenile Court hearing scheduled April 29.

Jurors' names will be drawn by juror commissioners J. Ludwig Haeker and K. E. Dountz at 10 a. m. The jury is believed to be the first for the local juvenile court.

The hearing involves bastardy charges against a local juvenile.

He said they would not be stopped if they scattered.

"We will not disperse," defiantly replied Ida Hallen, 18, a Greenwood girl at the forefront of the marchers.

Then uniformed officers, aided by auxiliary policemen with riot sticks, began rounding up the group.

Meanwhile, integration leaders have begun an all-out campaign to tear down racial barriers in Birmingham, Ala.

The campaign erupted Wednesday as 21 Negroes were arrested at downtown department stores on charges stemming from attempted sit-in demonstrations at lunch counters.

At a meeting Wednesday night a Negro integration leader set the stage for the announcement that Birmingham is now the center of integration efforts in the South.

"When you're squeezed on both sides, it's hell," said the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights. He said he was referring to white persons who are trying to keep the Negroes shackled and to Negroes who are willing to remain in their present status.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., leader of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and his chief deputies—the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy—arrived in time to address the gathering.

King told the 400 cheering, hymn-singing Negroes that he was here to stay. He promised a fight to the end—until racial barriers are trampled in Birmingham.

"Birmingham is the most thoroughly segregated big city in the United States today," he declared. "All of our forces will be marshaled here to bring about a non-violent integration and recognition of human rights."

King said a mass meeting would be held nightly. He said there would be sit-ins, kneel-ins, picketing and every other form of non-violent demonstration until "pharaoh lets God's people go." Mass marches were in the planning stage, he said.

3 Training Schools Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland will get three new training and retraining schools and a fourth now in progress there will be extended four weeks, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has announced.

Willard P. Dudley, BUC administrator, said Wednesday Cleveland had been granted schools starting April 15 for training of clerk-typists, machine operators and transmission and differential repairmen. There will be room for 125 persons to take the training.

The school being extended is for training combination welders.

The BUC also announced the opening of new schools in St. Marys and Dayton.

A machine tool operators school is scheduled to run May 6 to Sept. 23 in St. Marys.

Classes for 25 draftsman and detailers will begin in Dayton April 23, the BUC said.

U.S. Said Capable of Building Space Antisatellite Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay believes the United States could build an antisatellite right now that could be sent up into space to bring down a hostile, weapon-carrying satellite.

But the Air Force chief of staff says the idea for this defensive system is only in the study stage, that "it is not a full-fledged program."

LeMay's views on this and other aspects of space war were given last month to the Senate Armed Services Committee. A censored version of the testimony was released today.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., asked LeMay whether the Soviet Union had demonstrated a capability for satellite interception and if so what were the military implications.

The air chief replied by recalling the simultaneous flight of two Soviet astronauts last year. The reported proximity of their satellite

Seven Plead Innocent at Arraignments

All seven persons indicted by the April term of the Pickaway County Grand Jury entered pleas of innocent today during an arraignment session in the Common Pleas Courtroom.

Two men, indicted for robbery, pleaded guilty to lesser charges of assault and battery. They were sentenced during the session that got under way about 45 minutes late.

Harry Margulis, Ashville, attorney, represented Ellsworth and William Rowland. Each was handed a one-year probationary sentence by Judge William Ammer for the assault and battery offense.

Pleading innocent to the grand jury indictments were: John Piccione, failure to provide for his minor children; Bernard Ray Davis, forcible entry of an inhabited dwelling in the night season; and three Columbus men charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, Robert Monroe, George Hughes and James Thomas.

Trial dates will be scheduled for those pleading innocent to charges.

lites indicates a technical capability for rendezvous, LeMay said. He added that "this capability could be used in a number of ways," but at this point portions of his answer were deleted by censors.

Another witness, Dr. Harold Brown, the Pentagon's director of defense research and engineering, said:

"I believe that it is conceivable but not likely that space may become an area in which armed combat takes place directly from space—that is it may turn out to be the best way to knock down a vehicle which worries you because (of) what it is doing or because it is carrying a bomb or for some other reason. I believe that is not really very likely because you can probably do it better from the ground."

Kennedy Says 9,000 Soviets Depart Cuba

At the start of the session, Kennedy was asked about the abruptly abandoned Pentagon program to ask key officials to take lie detector tests, if necessary, to determine who "leaked" a memorandum critical of the Senate's investigation of the TF fighter plane contract.

"I think it was a mistake to suggest a polygraph," Kennedy replied. "I don't think we need concern ourselves in the future about it."

The question of a possible power struggle within the Kremlin also came up. Kennedy expressed the view that Soviet Premier Khrushchev "has his good months and bad months like we all do." But he said recurrent hints of disagreements in the Soviet hierarchy have not affected U.S. policy decisions.

The President also talked about his own ups and downs with Congress. He predicted passage of major legislation, including a tax cut, in the coming months. But he said other administration proposals will be defeated and this in turn, will prompt discussion of "presidential leadership." A broad grin indicated he is reconciled to this eventuality.

Discussing the continued presence of Soviet troops in Cuba, Kennedy said all figures are bound to be generalized "because it is impossible to take a detailed head count."

He said the government will watch the situation closely to see "whether there are going to be further withdrawals which, of course, we wish for."

Kennedy conceded, on the subject of quickie raids against Cuba, that the long Florida coastline does afford opportunities for the launching of refugee attacks from U.S. soil.

"We have attempted to discourage it for a number of reasons," he said.

For one thing, he commented, "It does not seem to us that this represents any real blow against Castro." On the contrary, he said it could offer "additional incentives for the Soviet Union to maintain their personnel in Cuba" and even to "send additional units to protect their merchant ships."

The whole matter could become an issue of war and peace, he said, if one attack led to a counterblow which eventually might embroil American vessels.

On other topics, Kennedy:

Said it "seems evident to me" that Negroes in Greenwood, Miss., have been denied their constitutional voting rights. He expressed hope for "justice" as a result of two pending court suits.

Said the establishment of a military dictatorship in Guatemala and revolutionary attempts in Argentina are symptoms of the political and economic instability which the Alliance for Progress seeks to eliminate.

Declared the United States has no consistent policy regarding diplomatic recognition of governments imposed by force. In the case of Guatemala, he said, the administration will want to judge the prospects for free elections there, as well as assess the reaction of Guatemala's Central American neighbors.

Said he doesn't see why the possible election of a Labor party government in Britain should alter Anglo-American relations, which he said are based on "history and common interests."

Made evident an American desire for restoration of democratic government in South Korea, while saying the matter must be settled by the Koreans themselves.

Rejected a Republican-sponsored suggestion for a commission to study federal spending. Kennedy said he is satisfied with the work of the Budget Bureau and the congressional appropriations committees.

Declined to comment on staff suggestions of the Securities and Exchange Commission for new laws to safeguard investors. He said he hasn't seen them yet.

Held out little hope of setting up special machinery to prevent newspaper strikes like the one just settled in New York, inasmuch as neither management nor labor wants compulsory arbitration.

Hamilton Council OKs 1490-Acre Annexation

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — City Council has approved annexing the 1,490-acre Asbury Industrial tract to Hamilton as an emergency measure.

Council acted Wednesday night after the 1st District Court of Appeals in Cincinnati upheld a Butler County Common Pleas Court decision dismissing a petition seeking to block the proceedings. The petition had been filed by Mayor Francis J. Miller of nearby Fairfield.

That Was a Warning

TUSCON (AP) — Twenty sirens of Tucson's air raid warning system sounded off on schedule during a test.

One wouldn't quit. Accompanied by a chorus of wailing dogs, it continued to blare for an hour.

Norfolk Residents Renew Efforts for Better Conditions

Living conditions claimed to be less than satisfactory in the Norfolk Ave. area again are being confronted by City Council.

A delegation of three women from the Turner Addition register complaints with the solons this week. Most of their ire was centered on unsightly and unhealthy conditions they declared exist due to the raising of hogs, cattle and sheep in the neighborhood.

They also objected to the dumping of old lumber and the parking of trucks in the area.

A solution for the complaints did not appear immediate. Council, contending it is a legislative body and not an enforcement agency, asserted it has no authority to take legal action.

MAYOR Richard Penn, on the other hand said there appears to be no specific violation of a city ordinance in regard to growing or housing livestock. According to debate that followed, an ordinance limiting livestock within the confines of the city was turned down several years ago.

Mayor Penn added that the police department or possibly the health department could provide enforcement if the proper legislation were available to grant the authority. He added that it is within the scope of Council to enact the proper ordinances if it so desires.

Councilman D. J. Carpenter told the delegation that it would probably be wiser to use due process of law in filing legal complaints against residents alleged to be violators. He said this would be more in line with proper procedure rather than bring the matter before Council.

A request by the Norfolk delegation that a thorough inspection be made of the area was sanctioned by Boyd Horn, Fourth Ward councilman. Mayor Penn invited the three women or their representatives to attend next Tuesday's regular meeting of the City Health Board for a further discussion on their complaints.

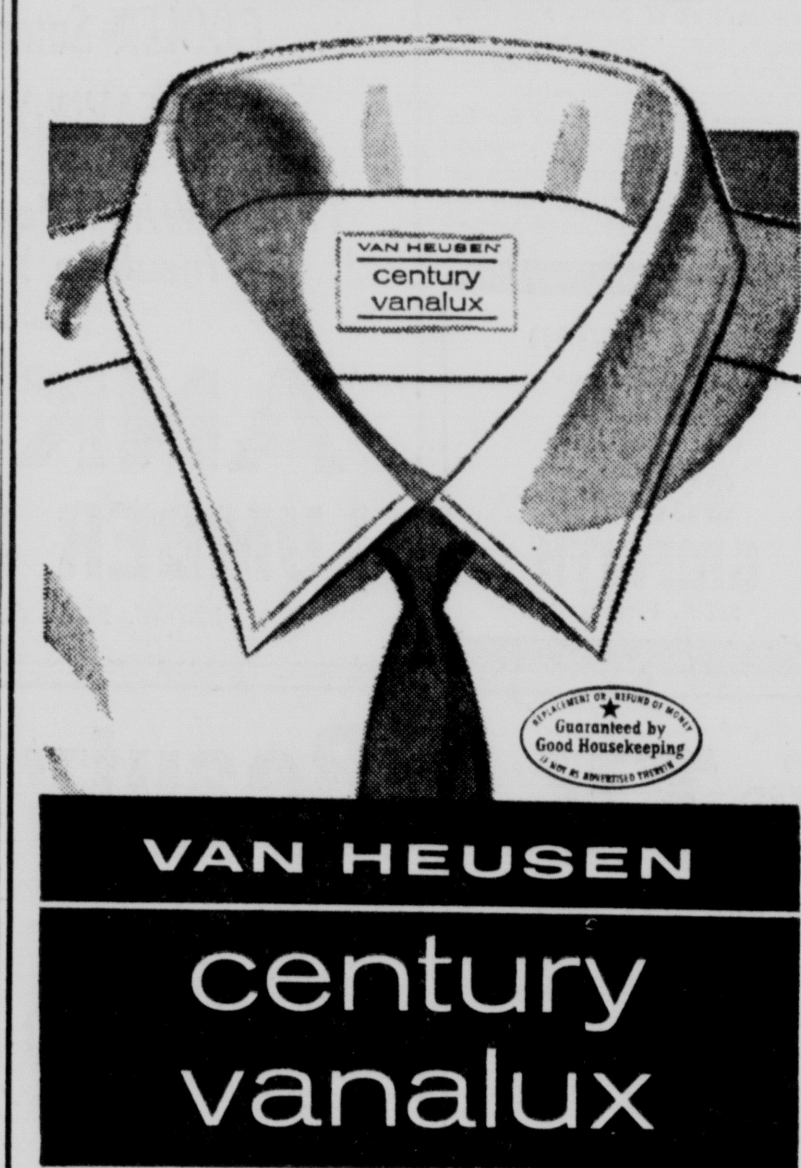

Concentrated efforts by certain individuals from the Norfolk area to improve their neighborhood conditions started last July. They were successful in their request for water facilities and various street improvements.

But several property owners now claim that nothing has been done toward eliminating unhealthy conditions and unsightly appearances. The three women appearing this week said they intend to continue their visits to Council until some action is taken.

... LOVE ... GRATITUDE—There were no public ceremonies to honor Lady Clementine Churchill, wife of Sir Winston, on her 78th birthday. She spent the day quietly with her family in London. However, the London Daily Express said, "It is not just conventional good wishes that the people send this wonderful woman. It is their love and gratitude" for standing beside Sir Winston during his long and sometimes turbulent career.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy isn't going to get into any squabbles with Congress, if he can help it. But at his news conference Wednesday he did get a little stiff with former President Eisenhower.

There was nothing new about this. If it looked unusual, it's only because the occasional hassles between the two men have been spaced well enough apart to be almost overlooked.

At a time when the President, who is also a politician, is hoping Congress will give him the tax cut he wants and be kind to foreign aid, he defended the legislators against a charge of dragging their feet.

But Kennedy is also acutely concerned about the fate of his $98.8-billion budget which the Republicans in Congress want to hack. And suddenly Eisenhower himself took a swipe at it, thus helping his party.

He volunteered the suggestion the budget could be cut by about $13 billion.

He gave his views, he said, without a trace of partisanship. But, since he admitted he couldn't give details on where the cuts should come, Democrats could hardly escape the feeling his views were more political than fiscal.

He ridiculed—and this wasn't new, either—the money Kennedy wants to spend on space. He suggested the Kennedy administration think less about reaching the moon and more about what he called "fiscal soundness."

Kennedy took a dig at Eisenhower Wednesday—as he did before on exactly the same subject—by stating that "we are second in space today because we started late."

He indirectly suggested this country was under-defended when he took over from Eisenhower. He explained how he had to build it up fast.

Since the two men have poked at each other like this before, their relations—unless Eisenhower comes back now with some tart remarks about the Kennedy administration, more tart than before—should return to normal.

Normal for them seems to be this:

In a moment of international crisis Kennedy will seek out Eisenhower for a chat. If this doesn't accomplish anything else, at least it gives the appearance of political solidarity against a foreign foe.

In between times they will blister each other's administration and then lapse into prolonged periods of quietude.

Last summer, for instance, Eisenhower said the Kennedy regime was "floundering—thrashing aimlessly about" and more of the same, like seeing the President in the clutches of the "big spenders."

This went on and off over three months, during which Eisenhower barked away, just as he did now, at Kennedy's spending on space. And Kennedy answered just about the way he did Wednesday.

Then when the 1962 election came around Eisenhower derided "callow youth," meaning the Kennedy administration, and said he was tired of the "boastful and brassy words" of those "so-called brilliant men."

Kennedy complained about the bundle of unfinished business left him by the Eisenhower administration. And Eisenhower said he was "sick and tired" of people telling Americans his eight-year administration didn't do much.

Through all this there has been no name-calling, no personal attacks.

Neither man figures to gain much in these scattered scraps. Eisenhower can make life a little more difficult for the Kennedy administration, Kennedy can downgrade the memory of Eisenhower.

Since Eisenhower must depend on history for an evaluation of his record and Kennedy is trying to make a record that can be evaluated, their recriminations can only damage their records without improving them.

No wonder they go after each other only in fits and starts.

NEW YORK (AP) — We are bombarding our environment each year with 900 million pounds of chemicals to kill insects, weeds, rodents and other organisms considered to be pests. The question—the controversy—is what all these recently developed poisons are doing to the nation's wild life, to the balance of nature and to man himself.

"CBS Report" undertook to find out in an investigation that occupied eight months. The result was shown Wednesday night in "The Silent Spring of Rachel Carson," the sweet-faced, gentle-voiced biologist who wrote a documented book that started the controversy.

CBS cameras and producer-reporter Jay McMullen visited the prime sources of information: Miss Carson, Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Surgeon General Luther Terry, Commissioner George Larrick of the Food and Drug Administration, the director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife research center and many others, including a spokesman for the chemical industry which manufactures the pesticides.

Result was a thoughtful, unemotional, clear and thoroughly frightening program. It was frightening because, as McMullen summed it up, it seems that nobody really knows how serious the pesticide danger is because there is "an appalling scarcity of facts concerning the effects" of them.

The chemical companies' representative, Dr. Robert White-Stevens, insisted that when used according to directions, pesticides are NOT harmful, but he was the only one who seemed certain about it. The Fish and Wildlife Service man said that 80 per cent of all wildlife it examined contained pesticide residues. And Miss Carson feels so strongly that she believes they should be called "biocides" because of their danger to all life.

Bob Fuller, the dark-haired hero of NBC's "Laramie" all these seasons, will join the "Wagon Train" regulars on ABC next season. "Take Two," a game show with radio's Don McNeill as host, will replace ABC's "Alumni Fun" which completes 13 weeks early in May.

Recommended tonight: "The Invincible Mr. Disraeli," NBC, 8:30-10 (Eastern Standard Time)—Trevor Howard and Greer Garson star as England's prime minister and his wife in a "Hall of Fame" drama special.

Can You Remember When—?

NEW YORK (AP)—Time is a torrent that rushes us headlong in only one direction.

But by the magic gift of memory we can escape the turbulent present, and row back to more placid waters. Some of us can remember when—

One of the great goals of labor was an eight-hour day for $5 in pay.

The thrill of a lifetime came when you bought your first pair of pearl-gray spats.

The surest way to prove you were a campus intellectual was to announce that you'd rather go to prison than take ROTC.

When you went for a Sunday drive, you figured on stopping at least twice to patch an inner tube.

You could ride on a streetcar for a nickel, get your shoes shined for a dime, and have a tooth filled for $2.

It made you feel real sinful to stay up late on Saturday night and go to the midnight movie.

In the throes of puppy love you stood on your head in front of your girl's house, hoping thereby to impress her in some mysterious way.

The hero of the gang was the one who took the first chilly plunge into the old swimming hole in the spring.

It was widely believed that science could tell your mental traits by the bumps on your head.

Schools had grass yards instead of paved playgrounds.

College boys earned their summer spending money working on farms as harvest hands.

Most men carried their lunch in a metal lunch box, not hidden in a leather attache case.

You could see at least two dog fights a day in the average neighborhood. The accepted method for separating the yelping canine contestants was to throw a kettle of hot water on them.

The biggest drama in a farmer's life was to go to town on Saturday and watch a trial at the courthouse.

The people who chewed tobacco looked down on those who smoked it as sissies.

Traveling salesmen were known as drummers, and they seemed to spend most of their waking hours sitting in hotel lobbies and lying to one another.

The standard library in most rural homes consisted of two volumes—a worn family Bible and the latest edition of a mail order catalog.

Everything buttoned — nothing zipped.

You could always spot the biggest dude in town. He wore the brightest yellow shoes.

Mother broke into tears when her son proudly put on his first pair of long pants—and left his boyhood behind forever.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Price-fixing charges are flying again. And once more the trimmings are fancy—alleged secret meetings in swank clubs and hotels, carefully drawn up rules for dividing sales by alternating low bids, and top corporate names familiar to the public.

And again industrial leaders are debating how an industry is to draw the fine line between anti-trust violations and meeting cut-throat competition, between conspiring with your competitors to make competition painless and spying out what your competitors are doing so as to outbid them.

There is a further fine point that businessmen stress: Running the risk of being accused of conspiring to duplicate prices when actually the similar listings may be accidental or set by rigid operational costs that make price variations unlikely.

The public's concern is more simple. It is based on the strong suspicion that when supposed competitors compare notes the result is likely to be higher prices than free competition would assure, and therefore the public is stuck.

Price-fixing charges have been in the news frequently for the past two years. The public was startled when electrical equipment manufacturers, were accused of conspiring to rig bids and to overcharge customers. They later paid large fines and settled out of court costly damage suits by customers.

Now seven steel companies are charged with fixing prices—some on wrought steel wheels, and some on rolled steel pipe flanges and rings. The names most familiar to most people are U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Armco. All deny the charges.

In between have been a splattering of antitrust suits involving other industries.

One debate sparked by the two years of charges has been over the extent of the damage to the reputation of business in general in the eyes of the public. Some even saw a link between the spate of federal indictments and the stock market's decline which hit a climax last May and again in June.

Within business circles, too, there has been considerable debate about ethics as well as about the public image. Some industrial associations have spent time and money trying to assure the public of the high standards of most businessmen.

The shock value of federal anti-trust indictments has worn thin by now. But an underlying problem remains for business: How to survive in the present climate of rising costs and price resistance and government regulation, and at the same time appear as pure as should Caesar's wife.

LAFF-A-DAY

"Boy! THAT'S what I want to be when I grow up."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

"I am a diabetic grandmother," was said with an air of double distinction by a 64-year-old woman who was being seen by a doctor for routine checkup.

She had the right to be proud. For forty years she had adhered meticulously to the advice and the established dietary regime that kept her in fine health.

The added distinction of becoming a grandmother was a testimonial to her survival and longevity made possible by the discovery of insulin.

In 1921, Sir Frederick Banting and his co-worker, Dr. Charles Best, of Canada, did the brilliant work that isolated insulin from the pancreas.

Insulin is the substance that maintains the sugar balance of the body. It is the deficiency of insulin that causes diabetes. Well-supervised injections of insulin can control the sugar balance.

More recently, even the annoyance of injection has been eliminated in many cases. A form of insulin taken by mouth has been found to be just as effective.

The discovery of insulin was one of man's great gifts to himself. For with it came the control of a disease which previously had meant chronic debility and invalidism.

What was once a severe illness has now become for most diabetics only a severe nuisance. For diabetes almost always is controllable.

The diabetic today must only be recognized to be successfully treated. Once the diagnosis is made, diabetes can continue to be productive human beings with little or no restrictions on their daily activities.

The "Do's" and "Don'ts" of all illnesses are important, but none more so than in the case of diabetes.

The one "Do" is to have regular examinations. The one "Don't" is to say, "It can't happen to me." For diabetes occurs in all ages. Although much more common in the middle-aged and the elderly, children, too, can have diabetes.

The presence of diabetes is suspected when there is an increase in the normal amount of sugar in the blood. Sugar in the urine is almost always the identifying stamp of diabetes.

Early symptoms are usually loss of appetite, marked thirst and decreased weight.

But remember, these symptoms alone do not mean diabetes. Symptoms of many diseases resemble each other. This must be emphasized so that patients will avoid saying to themselves, "That's exactly what I've got," only to find that their diagnosis is wrong.

The control of diabetes is one of the most gratifying and rewarding experiences in the practice of medicine. Before it can be attained, however, it is most important that everyone, at yearly intervals, consult his physician for the thorough examination that includes the telltale inspection of the urine.

There are few diseases that man is heir to whose cure is so intimately dependent on the cooperation of the patient, the family and the doctor. The joy of good health more than compensates for whatever annoying restrictions there are.

New Hope in Latin America

A year ago few people who make it their business to keep up with events in Latin America would have given a nickel for the chances of the Alliance for Progress. Said Peter Nehemkis, an economist-lawyer who travels the continent of South America for the Whirlpool Corporation, "Weep for the Alliance, for it is a dead duck." Some of Mr. Nehemkis's reasons for despair were to be counted in the statistics of foreign investment south of the Rio Grande. In 1957, $1.5 billion in direct investment funds had flowed from the United States into Latin America. In the first six months of 1962, this figure had dwindled all the way to nothing. Moreover, some American companies, a Mr. Nehemkis reported, were thinking of liquidating their existing Latin American ventures and coming home.

The sense of despair about lands to the south of us, however, started to lift some time previous to President Kennedy's visit to Costa Rica. Mr. Nehemkis's conversion to optimism is a straw in the wind. And, though the U. S. failure to follow through after telling Khrushchev to take his missiles home last autumn has had its depressing effects, the air of qualified bullishness persists about the chance of something being accomplished through the Alliance for Progress.

The main reason for the hopeful turn of affairs is that Latin American politicians are losing their fears of being "brushed by the wings of the Eagle" in cooperating with the United States. True enough, when Juan Bosch was campaigning for the presidency of the Dominican Republic, he studiously avoided referring to the Alliance for Progress in a shape or manner. But Latin American ex-presidents have not been so finicky. Both Alberto Lleras Camargo, the ex-president of Colombia, and Juscelino Kubitschek, ex-president of Brazil, have joined a committee to make the Alliance for Progress something more than a North American publicity stunt, or, as a Mexican told Mr. Nehemkis, "an interesting gimmick which could help Mexico with its balance of payments."

Frightened by the goings and comings of Castro agents who seep into other Latin American countries by way of complacent Mexico, which makes a fetish of "non-intervention," the Latin Americans are now thinking for the first time of broadly based organizations for self-protection. The new Central American Common Market was well publicized by President Kennedy's trip to Costa Rica. But beyond this there is the proposal of Dr. Felipe Herrera, president of the Inter-American Development Bank. Dr. Herrera wants to help create nothing less than a "Parliament of the Hemisphere," with political representatives from the national legislatures of North and South America, plus "functional" representatives from private industry, trade unions and universities.

The spurt of hopefulness for Latin America obviously acquired much of its momentum when the Kennedy Administration sent the U. S. Navy steaming out of Norfolk last fall to put an end to the flow of Soviet missiles into Cuba. And it continues what momentum it has because certain members of the Organization of American States exhibit a healthy restiveness over the fact that the U. S. has not managed to force all the Russians out of Cuba. If the ex-president of Colombia and Brazil are to make something really positive out of the Alliance for Progress, it will assuredly come in the wake of the next decisive stand by the U. S. vis-a-vis Castro. It is good that some Latin Americans are prodding Kennedy to take such a stand.

Seem time ago this columnist, writing on the difficulty of knowing what organizations to join and what not to join, refrained from adding his name to Captain Eddie Rickenbacker's Committee for the Monroe Doctrine on the ground that the Organization of American States should be doing what Rickenbacker's group proposed to do. It seemed to me at the time that the creation of the Rickenbacker committee would be looked upon in Latin America as just another bit of gratuitous flexing of the North American eagle's claws. But now that little Guatemala has come out shouting for the enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine, the fear that the Rickenbacker committee would seem offensively "unilateral" no longer holds. So, for whatever it is worth to Captain Rickenbacker, I capitulate, he may have me for a member if he wants me. But I hope he will add some Latin American names to his masthead. The impetus behind the revival of hope for the Alliance for Progress must not be allowed to die.

Can You Remember When—?

NEW YORK (AP)—Time is a torrent that rushes us headlong in only one direction.

But by the magic gift of memory we can escape the turbulent present, and row back to more placid waters. Some of us can remember when—

One of the great goals of labor was an eight-hour day for $5 in pay.

The thrill of a lifetime came when you bought your first pair of pearl-gray spats.

The surest way to prove you were a campus intellectual was to announce that you'd rather go to prison than take ROTC.

When you went for a Sunday drive, you figured on stopping at least twice to patch an inner tube.

You could ride on a streetcar for a nickel, get your shoes shined for a dime, and have a tooth filled for $2.

It made you feel real sinful to stay up late on Saturday night and go to the midnight movie. In the throes of puppy love you stood on your head in front of your girl's house, hoping thereby to impress her in some mysterious way.

The hero of the gang was the one who took the first chilly plunge into the old swimming hole in the spring.

It was widely believed that science could tell your mental traits by the bumps on your head.

Schools had grass yards instead of paved playgrounds.

College boys earned their summer spending money working on farms as harvest hands.

Most men carried their lunch in a metal lunch box, not hidden in a leather attache case.

You could see at least two dog fights a day in the average neighborhood. The accepted method for separating the yelping canine contestants was to throw a kettle of hot water on them.

The biggest drama in a farmer's life was to go to town on Saturday and watch a trial at the courthouse.

The people who chewed tobacco looked down on those who smoked it as sissies.

Traveling salesmen were known as drummers, and they seemed to spend most of their waking hours sitting in hotel lobbies and lying to one another.

The standard library in most rural homes consisted of two volumes—a worn family Bible and the latest edition of a mail order catalog.

Everything buttoned—nothing zipped.

You could always spot the biggest dude in town. He wore the brightest yellow shoes.

Mother broke into tears when her son proudly put on his first pair of long pants—and left his boyhood behind forever.

Price-fixing charges have been in the news frequently for the past two years. The public was startled when electrical equipment manufacturers, were accused of conspiring to rig bids and to overcharge customers. They later paid large fines and settled out of court costly damage suits by customers.

Now seven steel companies are charged with fixing prices—some on wrought steel wheels, and some on rolled steel pipe flanges and rings. The names most familiar to most people are U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Armco. All deny the charges.

In between have been a splattering of antitrust suits involving other industries.

The shock value of federal antitrust indictments has worn thin by now. But an underlying problem remains for business: How to survive in the present climate of rising costs and price resistance and government regulation, and at the same time appear as pure as should Caesar's wife.

'Off-Broadway' Movement Topic of Monday Club Meet

Mrs. George Barnes presided during a regular meeting of the Monday Club at 8 p. m. in the trustees' room at Memorial Hall. It was announced that Mrs. David Fullen and Mrs. Doyle Painter would serve as delegates to the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs Convention to be held April 23, 24 and 25 at the Deshler-Hilton Hotel, Columbus, Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. O. E. Barr were selected to serve as alternates.

Mrs. William Sprague, guest speaker of the evening, used as her subject "The Off-Broadway Theater" and presented an off-Broadway production entitled "Dragon's Mouth," by Jacquetta Hawkes and J. B. Priestley.

The speaker prefaced her presentation by defining the off-Broadway theater movement. She said in part the term of "Off-Broadway" applies only to those New York professional groups actively engaged in theatrical productions in places exclusive of theaters in the Times Square area.

Off-Broadway contributes to the contemporary scene in three ways: 1. revival of classics, 2. discovery of new or recent native and foreign plays never produced in New York or the United States and 3. rediscovery of worthy plays.

"Off-Broadway introduces plays that Americans would not have a change to see—plays rejected by Broadway as appealing to limited audience." To those responsible for the off-Broadway productions, Mrs. Sprague said, intelligent theater-goers owe a great debt.

In presenting "Dragon's Mouth" Mrs. Sprague assumed the roles of all four characters in the play. She introduced the play by stating that some view it as a morality play in which four people have failed life because each has lived too much by using only one faculty, while others find the play a series of gripping self-revelations by four people obsessed by the desire to confess.

Mrs. Sprague added that "Dragon's Mouth" is the first play ever written deliberately for the platform style of performance used with enormous success by the First Drama Quartet in their reading of Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell."

The gift table was decorated with a yellow, green and white color scheme.

Prize winners were Mrs. Jean Russell, Mrs. Diane Collins, Miss JoAnn Billups and Miss Donna Hudson.

Other guests were, Mrs. Robert Lovett, Mrs. Albert Lovett, Mrs. Ota Lovett, Mrs. Russell Smith and daughter Rane, Mrs. Frank Woodward Jr., Mrs. Bryan Riffle, Mrs. Terry Imier, Mrs. Ida Mitchell, Miss Patricia Sawyer, all of Circleville; Mrs. Harry Lovett, Mrs. James Lovett and daughter Cheryl, Mrs. Thomas Downs of Stoutsville; Miss Karen Lanman, Williamsport.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. James Marcum, Mrs. Wayne Stambaugh, Miss Judi Pfeffer, Mrs. Shirley Stant, Connie, Cheryl and Bonnie Riffle, Mrs. Donald Greeno, Miss Donna Stauffer, Mrs. Roger Valentine and Mrs. Richard Riffle.

The wedding will be an event of April 20 in Ansted, West Virginia.

Monrovia Members Hear Discussion on Conservation

New officers were elected when members of the Monrovia Garden Club met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Russell Beckett.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers: Mrs. Charles Fleming, president; Mrs. Loring Stoe, first vice president; Mrs. Everett Grabill, second vice-president; Mrs. Clark McCafferty, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Neff, treasurer.

"Conservation" was the program topic presented. Mrs. McCafferty discussed soil. Mrs. Herman Porter, water. Mrs. Loring Stoe, plant life. Mrs. Francis Furniss, wild life and birds.

Mrs. Clyde Michel, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Frank E. Smith gave the devotionals using "Easter is Yours Alone" as her theme. She also gave a very interesting reading on the Easter Egg. Nineteen members answered roll call by identifying a cutting they had brought to the meeting to exchange.

Mrs. Clark McCafferty read the secretary's report and read thank you notes from Mrs. Don Smith and Mrs. Kenneth Gossard for flowers received while they were ill. Mrs. Lloyd Neff, treasurer, reported. Mrs. Michael announced that the Spring Regional meeting will be held April 17 at the Grove City Methodist Church with Darby Valley Garden Club as hosts.

An invitation was read from the Circleville Garden Club to a meeting 7:30 p. m. May 9 in the 4-H

Grange Building at the fairgrounds. An invitation was also read to attend a floral demonstration and lecture by Bob Thomas at 1 p. m. today in the 4-H Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. "Traditions and Trends" will be the theme. Mrs. Georgia Dick, tour chairman, told of a planned tour to Yellow Springs and West Liberty May 10. Mrs. Herman Porter reported on the recent council meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Beckett assisted by Mrs. Clara Woods. The May meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Neff.

New Officers Named by CCL

The Child Conservation League met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. William Sprague with Mrs. Clifford Bowser, president, presiding.

Mrs. Kenneth Luna reported that members had again assisted with the Sabin Polio Sunday. Copying of school children's health records in the City Health Office has been completed up to the high school grades.

Officers elected for the coming year are as follows: Mrs. Roger May, president; Mrs. William Sprague, vice president; Mrs. Richard Cole, secretary; Mrs. Richard Plum, treasurer. Members of the nominating committee were Mrs. R. Penn, chairman; Mrs. William Sprague, and Mrs. Glenn McCoy.

Mrs. William Richards reported that fifty-nine members and guests attended the Spring Luncheon held at the Pickaway Country Club in March. The constitutional amendments which were proposed at the February meeting were voted on and adopted.

The annual Officers' Tea will be held on May 7 in the home of Mrs. Clifford Bowser, William's report.

Mrs. Sprague, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Philip Hardy who titled her subject, "The y Had Problems, Too". She based her talk on a survey made by Dr. Goertzel, Research Director, Fountain City, New York City, on four hundred prominent men and women and how their childhood affected them.

These persons came from every conceivable background and social strata and had every possible type of problem. However, almost all their parents held learning in high regard and ranked making money lower than intellectual achievements. About one-half of them had dominating parents—especially mothers.

Mrs. Hardy gave brief home backgrounds on the following people as examples: Nikita Khrushchev, Nelson Rockefeller, Walter Reuther, Charlie Chaplin, John F. Kennedy, Charles Lindbergh and Eddie Cantor.

New Officers Named by CCL

The Child Conservation League met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. William Sprague with Mrs. Clifford Bowser, president, presiding.

Mrs. Kenneth Luna reported that members had again assisted with the Sabin Polio Sunday. Copying of school children's health records in the City Health Office has been completed up to the high school grades.

Officers elected for the coming year are as follows: Mrs. Roger May, president; Mrs. William Sprague, vice president; Mrs. Robert Cole, secretary, Mrs. Richard Plum, treasurer. Members of the nominating committee were Mrs. R. Penn, chairman; Mrs. William Sprague, and Mrs. Glenn McCoy.

Mrs. William Richards reported that fifty-nine members and guests attended the Spring Luncheon held at the Pickaway Country Club in March. The constitutional amendments which were proposed at the February meeting were voted on and adopted.

The annual Officers' Tea will be held on May 7 in the home of Mrs. Clifford Bowser, Williamsport.

Mrs. Sprague, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Phillip Hardy who titled her subject, "They Had Problems, Too". She based her talk on a survey made by Dr. Goertzel, Research Director, Fountain City, New York City, on four hundred prominent men and women and how their childhood affected them.

These persons came from every conceivable background and social strata and had every possible type of problem. However, almost all their parents held learning in high regard and ranked making money lower than intellectual achievements. About one-half of them had dominating parents—especially mothers.

Mrs. Hardy gave brief home backgrounds on the following people as examples: Nikita Khrushchev, Nelson Rockefeller, Walter Reuther, Charlie Chaplin, John F. Kennedy, Charles Lindbergh and Eddie Cantor.

A pound of granulated sugar measures about 2 cups; a pound of brown sugar (light or dark) measures about 2½ cups.

Corn Tassel Favored from This Corner

Our National Floral Emblem Calls for Symbolic Qualities

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES
Certainly I want Congress to decide on our National Floral Emblem. . . That is if members of this great and august body agree to adopt the corn tassel.

The controversy has arisen again about which shall be our National flower. Senator Dirksen of Illinois recently suggested the marigold for this exalted position. Senator Aiken of Vermont immediately pointed out that the marigold was a native of Mexico.

Inez Robb, popular columnist, actually, a corn tassel woman herself, has grown tired of the never ending controversy and has jokingly suggested the dandelion, "good both on the table and in the tumbler."

Someday our Congress may surprise the unalerted public and decide the matter. And we may be caught with an inappropriate symbol such as the rose or the marigold.

I UNDERSTAND there is considerable lobbying and expenses are not spared by the proponents of the various flowers. I also understand that the noble corn tassel has no money interests behind it.

Its proponents are just those who regard corn as a fitting symbol.

Several years ago the florists held a nation-wide poll and the rose was the overwhelming favorite. Granted the rose is the "Miss America" of the floral world. But the rose does not have the symbolic characteristics for a national flower.

It can hardly be said we regard the bald eagle as a beauty. We give the eagle our respect. And this same eagle must have as its companion in patriotic symbolism a plant of real stature.

Corn is a noble plant. Remember how it stood between the early settlers and grim starvation?

Corn can symbolize our salvation, our wealth and our future. Let the corn tassel be our national floral emblem!

been a savage one, crocuses appear and bloom in early spring. No flower is more welcome. Small it may be but the blossom of the crocus is a showy flower.

Garden writers, incidentally, seem to have abandoned the old Latin plural form "Crocus" and are using the Americanized "Crocuses."

Crocuses come in a medley of colors—purple, lavender, yellow, white and striped varieties. The common Crocus—Crocus vernus—is used extensively in naturalized plantings, in flower beds and borders and in flower pots for the house window.

Naturalized plantings are all too rare. An extensive sweep of lawn carpeted with blooming crocuses is a sight indeed. Visitors to Old Williamsburg, Va., who are fortunate enough to be there at Crocus time come away with the memory of the terraced orchards that sweep down to the lagoon aglow with blooming Crocuses.

As a matter of fact experts say that naturalized planting is not difficult. Crocuses thrive in almost any soil.

New Natural Gas Proposal Shelved

NEW YORK (AP)—A $550 million natural gas distribution project that contemplated delivery of Texas gas as far away as New York has been abandoned.

Monterey Gas Transmission Co., key firm in the plan, said it is withdrawing its application to the Federal Power Commission for needed clearances.

Monterey had asked authority to make available 6.2 trillion cubic feet of gas from the King Ranch in southwest Texas to United Fuel Gas Co., a Columbia Gas System subsidiary, over the next 30 years.

United Fuel was to ultimately sell the fuel in Ohio, Kentucky and several mid-Atlantic states.

Garden Gossip

By MRS. ELIZABETH JONES

Ever faithful are the crocuses that bloom year after year for Mrs. Leslie May, 303 E. Franklin. They popped up this year as usual and bloomed one of the first spring days.

Mrs. Blanche Long of Kingston has a crocus planting, semi-naturalized, that is always a pleasure to behold.

The Floyd Wellers at 165 E. High St. have a very small yard but they manage to have something of interest blooming much of the time. Now it is crocuses—deep purple ones. Last summer it was red geraniums.

And of course, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Route 4, Circleville, has a planting of crocus bulbs. These are old timers, too. Her's vary from yellow to lavender purple, striped varieties and whites.

CROCUS are not the first spring bulbs to bloom. Glory-of-the-snow, snow drops and winter aconite all precede the crocus. But the crocuses make a splashier sight.

Goodness sakes, yes! Prepare for lots of winter kill on your roses. If they lived they will in all possibility have to be severely pruned.

Over the telephone Bob Brehmer, local florist, said that even Mac Noggle was finding that the winter had been hard on his roses. Mr. Brehmer added: "And Mac knows how to take care of roses." No one will dispute this!

Don Moulton, who addressed our garden club in March, warned his listeners that only the toughest of the perennials would pull through.

Someone asked Moulton if the snow had not served as a protection for the plants. He said that experts had agreed that the ground was frozen at least two feet deep. He said ground freezing to this depth means trouble.

I dash out each day to look for a sign of my bleeding heart, my Japanese anemone, my hardy gloxinia and my red hot poker. No sign of them yet. But strangest of all the Virginia blue bells that generally come up all over the place are few and far between.

MRS. GEORGE BARNES, 619 N. Court St., confided that she was secretly hoping the winter had killed out her roses. A fine rose grower, Mrs. Barnes says it's fun but hard work to take care of roses properly. She does not think she will replenish her roses if the winter killed them.

Mrs. R. N. Beatty, 633 N. Court, believes her roses have come through in pretty fair condition.

Mrs. Beatty is learning to make artificial flowers. She has mastered Oriental poppy making and is now setting her sights on magnolias. The artificial magnolias are very lovely.

Mrs. Beatty got so good at making poppies that she assembled bled the flowers while looking at her favorite TV program.

Mrs. Lloyd Petty is making "permanent" philodendron. She has enough for a planter. And I have five anthuriums of which I am proud.

Our leader and guide in this flower making business is Mrs. M. W. Burkhardt of Knollwood Village.

MRS. BURKHART says during football season while her husband watched football games she made flowers from plastic resin. One evening when the football game was over, Mr. Burkhardt looked up and asked, "What's for supper?" She said her answer was "Poppy petals."

My next flower is going to be tropical hibiscus. They will also be red.

The First National Bank in Kingston has such a big southern hibiscus plant that it fills the entire window. It's blooming, too. It's for real!

Harold Fry, Williamsport, was anxious to get out in his yard. We talked to Mr. Fry at his drugstore last week. He had nice success with his zinnias last year. Mrs. Fry, however, is worried to death about the Fry roses.

When Bob Thamos, floral artist, holds a workshop he lists the material and the containers his students are to bring. All the students take the same thing.

Shawnee arrangers and their friends for whom Bob Thomas was workshop instructor were told to bring an 18-inch high container. This is quite a tall container. Somebody suggested an umbrella holder.

MRS. EMMIT Barnhart and myself went to Wellston for a two-day workshop under Bob Thomas.

Mrs. Barnhart and I also attended a meeting of the Southern Ohio Council of Nationally Accredited Amateur Flower Show Judges in Dayton. We heard a report on the New York Symposium. Arrangers may as well settle down to learning all they can about abstract art.

Mrs. Fred Mavis, Sunshine Street, had forethought to build a frame and cover it with burlap for her fine big specimen of rhododendron. It wintered over in great shape.

English ivy and euonymus are sorry sights around Circleville right now. The evergreen leaves of these two plants are brown as can be. They'll come up from their roots.

Miss Anna Leist, E. Union St., whose magnolia grandiflora has RARE BLOSSOM — Pictured above is the blossom of the Mandarin philodendron. This slow climber with the big leaves has a blossom once in a blue moon. This plant, belonging to Mrs. Tur • Pontius, has bloomed on other occasions. The inside of the sheaf is red and on the thick stalk are droplets of red honey-like substance. It only stays open one day. Mrs. Pontius has a dieffenbachia plant that bloomed this year, too. The dieffenbachia blossom was pale green. Mrs. Pontius says the dieffenbachia has never bloomed for her.

long been the envy of Circleville gardeners, reports that magnolia leaves are all brown. Don Moulton's advice was to prune off all dead twigs and branch endings. Prune it severely if necessary. Back to where the wood is green.

Lyman Penn's death saddened our community. I was visiting Mrs. Penn Friday and we were talking about a magnificent elm near her house. She said it was the same species as Logan Elm.

MR. PENN said one year when the leaves came out on this old elm they were yellow instead of green. Many elms were dying at this time. Lyman placed a drainage tile at the base of the tree. The tile went down in the ground about six feet. Twice a day Lyman poured a bucket of water treated with certain chemicals down the tile. Mrs. Penn recalls that one of the materials was blue vitriol, but there were others, too.

In a few weeks the elm began to perk up. Lyman kept up the treatment all summer. It saved the grand old elm which is well over 150 years old.

The Virgil Cresses fed the birds regularly this winter and were rewarded with many moments of pleasurable watching.

I never heard how Mrs. Robert Hutzelman's plan to feed the big flocks of robins on a whole-sale basis turned out. She was worried, and well she may have been, when robins by the thousands turned up in Circleville during one of the winters bitterest cold spells.

The most promising lawn in the county is Norman Godden's at Leistville. It is so smooth that when it greens up it will be a lovely expanse of grass. I plan to inquire of Norman about his lawn procedures.

All-America Selections Offer New Home Garden Vegetables

All-America Selections for 1963 offer five new home garden and local market vegetables as the best of their kinds to date.

These are high quality, prolific home garden varieties. They are good to eat and, except for the winter squash 'Hercules', should be picked at tender stage of growth, just in time to serve or to prepare for dinner.

Lettuce 'Buttercrunch', Cabbage 'Emerald Cross', Winter Squash 'Hercules', Summer Squash 'Greyzini' and Snapbean 'Executive' are the All-America award winners for 1963 introduction.

Buttercrunch lettuce, developed by Dr. G. J. Raleigh of Cornell University, is of highest eating quality and comparable with one of its parents, the famous Kentucky Bibb variety. Considered the finest quality of all, Bibb is a cool weather lettuce, does not stand the heat and quickly bolts to seed stalks. It is a small, loose heading, butterhead type.

Emerald Cross cabbage is a true hybrid, developed in Japan. With exceptional hybrid vigor and uniformity, it is also extra early to mature its medium small heads. Of Golden Acre earliness and Copenhagen Market type, heads are firm, round and perfect in appearance, of most popular size and shape for home and market use.

Hercules squash, is of the most popular Butternut type of late or winter squash. But it is much larger, thicker fleshed and with a straight solid neck. The vine is more vigorous. The seed cavity is very small in the blossom end.

Hercules is highly productive, almost all solid flesh of fine texture and top flavor. The flesh is rich orange, sweet and dry, with long lasting quality to its blocky fruits. It needs about 82 days for maturity.

Greyzini summer squash is a grey Zucchini type, a true or F1 hybrid. It was generally earlier, slender and longer cylindrical or cucumber shape, more uniform and a heavier bearer on more vigorous bushy plants. Both skin and flesh are tender and of fine texture in its eating stage.

Eat bits of it raw like a radish for an appetizer and cook it in many other ways of preparing summer squash. It is delicious. But, it must be used when three or eight days from the time its blossom drops, as with any other summer squash and does not need to be peeled. Pick it young and tender and often to keep it bearing over a long season. Of bush type, it is useful even in small gardens and a few plants will supply family and friends.

Executive bush snapbean brings further improvement and productivity to the Tendergreen type bean.

Quality is generally excellent, meaty with a pleasant flavor. Executive does have a concentrated yield and with very light colored seeds should appeal to canners and may be mechanically harvested. For home gardens, pods should be picked when young and tender. Also, small successive plantings should be made twice a month to keep up the supply for the full season.

These All-America vegetable award winners are recommended for garden and table satisfaction. Plant a garden and taste the delectable difference of really fresh vegetables with home garden quality, picked just in time for dinner.

As a matter of fact experts say that naturalized planting is not difficult. Crocuses thrive in almost any soil.

They prefer leaf mold or compost rather than animal manure. Add grit (sand or ashes) to heavy clay soil. When planting in a lawn simply lift the turf, fork in some well rotted compost, plant the corms an inch deep and replace the turf.

In naturalized plantings of course, the corms are not planted in straight rows but in groups, preferably of one color.

When planting in beds near the house where large numbers are not needed, use the large named varieties. Some of the finest are said to be: Bleu Celeste, pale blue; Edina, white striped and shaded with lavender; Hero, purple; Kathleen Parlow and Peter Pan, white; President Lincoln, purple; and Cloth of Gold, yellow.

Crocuses live for many years. Any investment you make in crocus corms will give life-long pleasure. Experts say not to disturb the plantings. Corms will thrive and multiply on a good old "let alone" policy.

THERE ARE two methods of propagation, one of which calls for dividing corms as soon as the foliage has yellowed and replanting. The other method is to sow seeds in boxes of sandy soil in autumn and wintering the boxes over in a cold frame. The seed method takes several years to produce blooming corms.

Crocus corms are not expensive and are available at all garden stores in late summer.

Don't allow another year to pass without buying at least a couple of dozen corms to gayify the first days of spring.

If its water were harnessed, the Congo River system could increase Africa's power capacity thirteenfold.

Executive bush snapbean brings further improvement and productivity to the Tendergreen type bean.

Quality is generally excellent, meaty with a pleasant flavor. Executive does have a concentrated yield and with very light colored seeds should appeal to camera and may be mechanically harvested. For home gardens, pods should be picked when young and tender. Also, small successive plantings should be made twice a month to keep up the supply for the full season.

These All-America vegetable award winners are recommended for garden and table satisfaction. Plant a garden and taste the delectable difference of really fresh vegetables with home garden quality, picked just in time for dinner.

Tropical army ants follow a chemical roadway laid down by their leaders when they form raiding columns to hunt prey.

Annuals Add Mid-Summer Garden Color

Annuals are essential in providing mid-summer color to the garden. Annuals are inexpensive. They are responsible for change in the garden picture year after year. In short they are indispensable.

Some annuals are best sown in the fall. These hardy fellows live through the winter and bloom earlier for having had the head start. Larkspur, cornflowers, annual poppies, California poppies and nigella may be included in this group.

Lots of amateurs have excellent success with indoor grown seed. Spagnum moss and vermiculite are good media for planting. Experts warn that if soil is used it must be sterilized.

Heating in the oven at 350 degrees for 45 minutes is one way of sterilizing the soil for a small home project of early seed sowing.

"DAMPING-OFF" (Plants wither at the ground line and topple over) is one of the hazards of indoor planting. There are several damping-off controls. Use one.

Edwin F. Steffek, author of "Gardening the Easy Way" has come up with a little known method of seed sowing. He advocates sowing in the open ground at an early date. He says that even tender annuals sown thusly will withstand late frosts better than seedlings grown in the house and transplanted outdoors.

This is an interesting departure. It was formerly thought that seeds sown too early in cold wet ground would rot before they had a chance to sprout.

Gardeners in former years have given good reports of the "Punch and Grow" boxes of spagnum moss already planted with seeds. The gardener has only to water and wait for the seeds to sprout.

Each gardener ought to experiment with two new annuals each year. By this we mean annuals with which he has had no previous experience. All too often gardeners settle for the tried and true.

And while marvelous effects are created with petunias or marigolds or salvia still it doesn't cost much to go adventuring with some unknown seed packets.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Supermarkets offer an unusual array of main dish and produce choices this weekend.

Lamb had joined beef and pork as a red meat bargain in many markets. Poultry attractions have improved, with turkey tags lower in many markets and baking hens and fryers widely featured.

More vegetables and fruits are available at reasonable prices.

Lamb attractions this weekend include leg roasts in the Northeast and chops on the West Coast.

Beef offerings are again varied, including rib roasts, steaks and chuck roasts in the Southeast, rump roasts in the Midwest and brisket on the West Coast.

One nationwide chain offers boneless chuck pot roast at 59 cents a pound and California roasts at 45 cents in its New York area outlets.

Pork features include both fresh cuts — chops, tenderloin, loin roasts—and cured items—bacon, picnic hams and smoked butts.

Turkeys are offered in the Northeast at 39 cents a pound at one chain, and Northeast markets also highlights ducks and geese in anticipation of the Easter holiday. Many Midwestern shops feature roasting chickens.

Eggs are lower in many areas, with mediums selling at 45 cents a dozen in some New York area stores. Dairy foods are plentiful and attractively priced regionally.

Spring vegetables appearing at lowering prices include asparagus, sweet corn, bell peppers, parsnips, lettuce, salad greens and green onions.

Other vegetable attractions include cabbage, carrots, radishes, mushrooms, sweet potatoes, potatoes and tomatoes.

Among fruits, larger supplies of watermelon, strawberries, avocados and honeydew melons are showing up.

Cuba Is Ruled Out Of Latin Common Mart

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The executive secretary of the Latin American free trade area has ruled out any chance of Cuba joining the proposed nine-nation customs union to be patterned after the European Common Market.

Alberto Sola, an Argentine economist, told a news conference Tuesday night Cuba's foreign trade patterns bear no resemblance to those of other Latin American nations — an apparent reference to Cuban trade with the Soviet bloc.

Faulty Panel Light Blamed in Emergency

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A burned out panel light has been blamed for an unnecessary emergency landing here Wednesday of a Trans World Airlines plane. The pilot skipped scheduled stops at smaller fields in South Bend and Fort Wayne, Ind., and headed for Cox Municipal Airport here after noting the burned out light which indicated a faulty landing gear. The plane, TWA's Flight 312 from Chicago, touched down without incident.

Spanish sea captains were ordered to destroy their charts if threatened with capture, in the days of discovery and empire building.

Crooner's Son Now Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lindsay Crosby, 25, one of crooner Bing's sons, won't be expected to account for his evenings any longer.

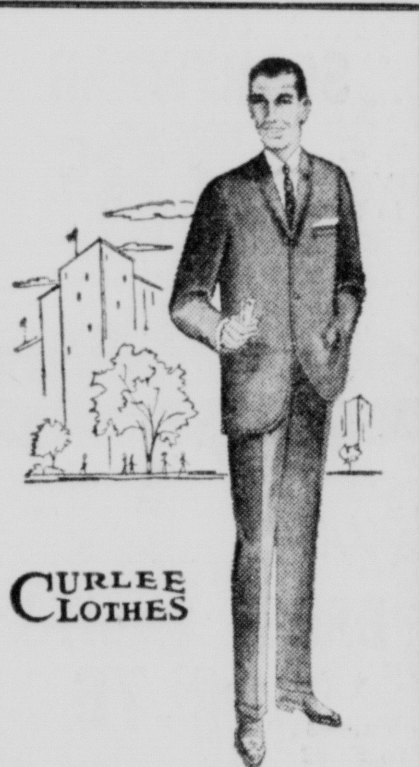

His wife Barbara, 25, a former Las Vegas, Nev. showgirl, won divorce Tuesday on testimony that he stayed out all night on numerous occasions, offering only vague explanations.

The couple was married Feb. 6, 1960, and separated last Nov. 7. A property settlement will give Mrs. Crosby $500 a month for support of their son, David, 2. She will also receive $1,000 a month, less any money she earns, for one year. Thereafter she will get $750 monthly for five years.

Germans Irked as U.S. Recruits Scientists

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—American talent scouts are skimming off the cream of West Germany's scientific manpower and many Germans don't like it.

Newspaper editorials and government officials fear this will eventually put a crimp in Germany's traditional role as a European science leader.

They have not come up with a way to keep their top scientists at home.

"Talent has always been attracted by high pay and top working conditions," explains an American official in Germany. "You can hardly expect German scientists or any others for that matter not to sell their services to the top bidders."

A similar "brain drain" problem has developed in Britain.

Conservative estimates place the number of German scientists leaving annually for the United States at about 111. This is roughly 5 per cent of the yearly crop

LONDON (AP) — Britain will have a deficit budget this year for the first time since 1947. Figures presented to the House of Commons show that spending will exceed revenues by $198 million.

The budget has heavy political overtones.

As presented by Treasury boss Reginald Maudling, it calls for expenditures of $19,401,200,000.

The basic income tax rate was left unchanged, but the government is increasing exemptions, freeing 3,375,000 low-income Britons from paying any income tax. Maudling's tax cut amounts to more than $700 million.

He liberalized Social Security allowances, abolished the tax on homeowners and took the first step toward a tax on all forms of gambling.

It was a budget designed to boost the Conservatives' failing fortunes. The ruling party is threatened by economic troubles and a resurgent Laborite opposition.

of German university graduates in physics, chemistry, mathematics, biology, geology and astronomy.

German scientific circles say that more than half the scientists heading to America have doctorates and include the best graduates of German universities.

"Only the finest are interested in basic research," a German university professor said "and they know they can get the best research facilities in the United States."

American recruitment of German scientists began almost immediately after World War II, when U.S. officials swarmed over defeated Germany searching out the makers of the Nazis' rockets.

They succeeded in persuading many to go to the United States, including Werner von Braun.

Indirect recruitment resulted from scholarship programs designed to take German students and researchers to the United States for a limited time. Many of the scholarship recipients became American citizens and never returned.

Concerned over the harmful effects the drain could have on the postwar development of German industry and science, Bonn government officials suggested that the United States require exchange students and professors to return to their native countries for at least two years before applying for U.S. immigration visas.

A U.S. law to this effect became operative in 1956. In the preceding year, 163 German scientists had gone to the United States as immigrants. In 1958, their number dropped to 128. German officials attribute the drop to the "cooling off" period.

Although the number of German scientists leaving for the United States has remained fairly constant since then, German officials fear it will rise as America's need for scientists increases.

Faulty Panel Light Blamed in Emergency

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A burned out panel light has been blamed for an unnecessary emergency landing here Wednesday of a Trans World Airlines plane. The pilot skipped scheduled stops at smaller fields in South Bend and Fort Wayne, Ind., and headed for Cox Municipal Airport here after noting the burned out light which indicated a faulty landing gear. The plane, TWA's Flight 312 from Chicago, touched down without incident.

Spanish sea captains were ordered to destroy their charts if threatened with capture, in the days of discovery and empire building.

Crooner's Son Now Divorced

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lindsay Crosby, 25, one of crooner Bing's sons, won't be expected to account for his evenings any longer.

His wife Barbara, 25, a former Las Vegas, Nev. showgirl, won a divorce Tuesday on testimony that he stayed out all night on numerous occasions, offering only vague explanations.

The couple was married Feb. 6, 1960, and separated last Nov. 7. A property settlement will give Mrs. Crosby $500 a month for support of their son, David, 2. She will also receive $1,000 a month, less any money she earns, for one year. Thereafter she will get $750 monthly for five years.

Conservative GOP Battling Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some conservative Republicans who have been busy throwing sand in the gearbox now believe they have slowed down Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's drive for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

The conservatives have taken a leaf from the book of tactics used against the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in 1952. They are putting on an extensive drive to convince prospective convention delegates the New York governor "can't win" if pitted against President Kennedy. They have coupled this with an attack on him as a "me-too" candidate.

The argument presented in monographs being circulated among party members is that because of his strong stand on civil rights Rockefeller can't carry a single Southern state. They contend that Kennedy could tuck away 112 electoral votes from the South and would need only 158 from 17 other states—which gave him 240 in 1960—to win re-election.

How much effect this is having could be a matter of dispute. But a conservative spokesman said private polls taken recently in Texas and Ohio indicate Rockefeller is not popular among Republicans in those two states.

He noted the governor's difficulties with his Republican legislature and Rockefeller's crack-down on former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's abortive effort to set up California headquarters for him.

The conservatives have it figured out that Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., could carry the solid South, plus Texas and California and every other state former Vice President Richard M. Nixon took in 1960. He thus would wind up winning with 320 electoral votes.

The difficulty, however, is that Goldwater just isn't cooperating satisfactorily. In fact, he is going around the country saying Rockefeller isn't such a bad fellow after all.

He is following this up by urging conservative state organizations to have a look at the New York governor on their home grounds. He is doing this, Goldwater explained in an interview, because he and Rockefeller are "genuinely interested in trying to get some party unity."

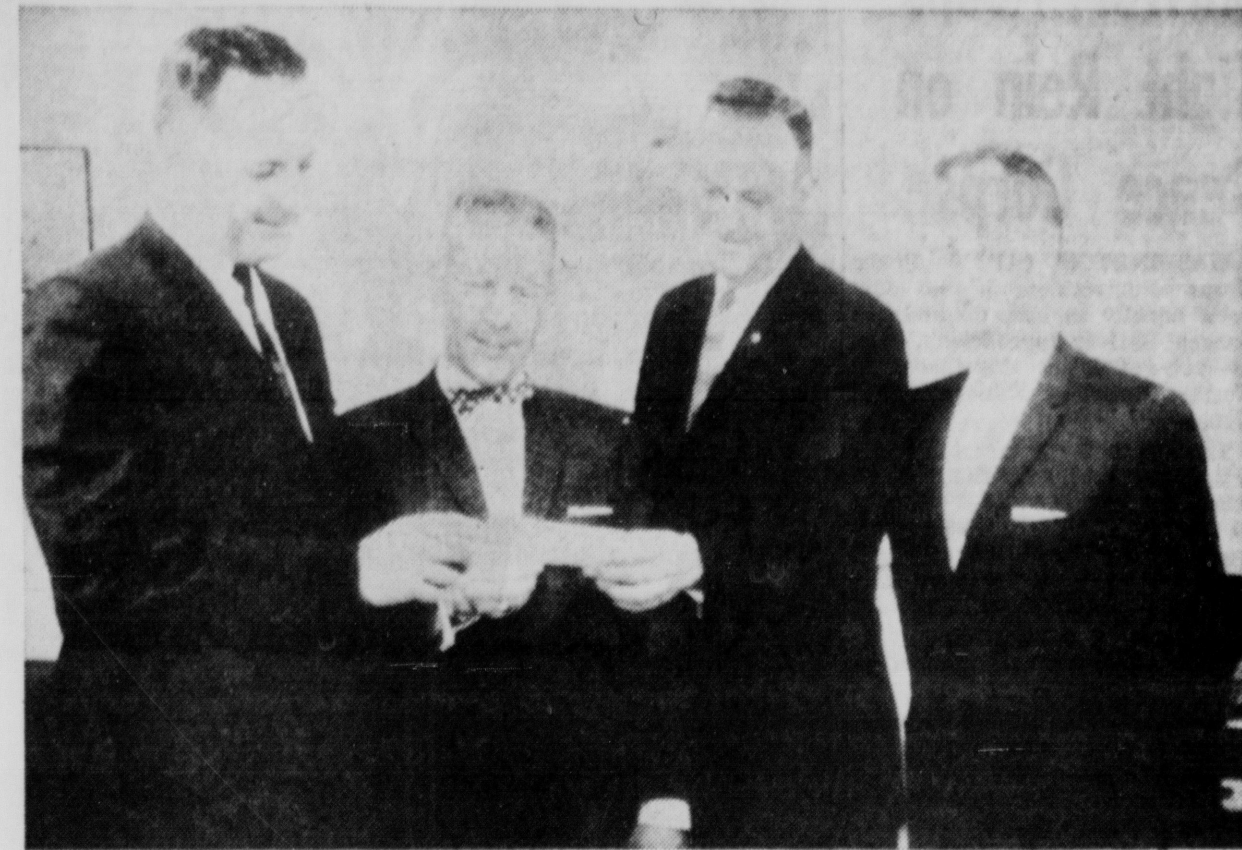

Nixon recently tossed off the advice that anybody who wants the party nomination ought to be out working for it now, particularly in lining up the financing for a pre-convention campaign.

Instead, Goldwater now is trying to raise about $100,000 he calculates will be needed to win re-election to the Senate in Arizona next year. He said he is returning all donations earmarked for presidential campaign purposes.

Part of Boat Found, But Not Fisherman

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Part of a fishing boat swept over a dam on the Muskingum River Monday was found Wednesday, but there was no trace of the man who was in it.

Authorities said the section they found had the boat registration number and established that the boat belonged to Hugh Peters, about 68, of Coal Run.

22 Arrested In Canton Vice Raids

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Norman J. Putman, Stark County prosecutor, says he notified city authorities of the location of alleged houses of prostitution, then waited 30 days before sending in sheriff's deputies for the biggest raid on such places here in recent years.

A raiding party of 54 men hit eight houses Wednesday and took 22 persons into custody.

Putman said men picked up would be released. He said 15 girls would be booked on charges of residing in houses for purposes of prostitution.

The eight houses were in an area just a few blocks from City Hall.

Putman said he received an anonymous letter March 5 listing the places and turned the information over to Mayor James A. Lawhun and Sheriff W. J. Hine. The sheriff raided one place outside city limits March 7.

Putman said he didn't know "why the city isn't doing the job."

The prosecutor and Sheriff Hine joined the raiding party Wednesday after getting search warrants from Common Pleas Court Judge George N. Graham.

After the raids, armed guards were posted at the houses, and the city engineer sent crews out to board the places up.

Mayor Lawhun said of the raid that he "welcomed the sheriff's coming into the city if he had evidence of law violation."

Police Chief Frank J. Burnosky appeared during the raids and offered his aid.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A cold front attended by showers, thundershowers and strong winds moved eastward through Ohio early Wednesday night.

Temperatures dropped sharply and by sunrise today were 30 to 40 degrees below Wednesday's afternoon readings. At 6 a.m. today, Toledo reported 37, Columbus 40 and Cincinnati 38.

There will be considerable cloudiness over the state today, and strong northwesterly winds will continue. Afternoon temperatures will rise only into the 40s and low 50s.

Winds will diminish tonight and skies will clear, bringing a possibility of scattered frost by Friday morning when temperatures will be in the 30s and upper 20s.

Afternoon temperatures Friday will be a little warmer under mostly sunny skies.

Picnic Tables Removed From Eaton Area Park

EATON, Ohio (AP)—It will be all right to visit Fort St. Clair State Park off Ohio 122 west of here this summer, but picnics will be forbidden.

Roy Horner, park superintendent, said the 80 picnic tables were removed because the Ohio Historical Society did not have enough money for maintenance. Playground equipment also was dismantled.

PLANS MADE FOR LILY DAY — Pictured here making final plans for the annual Lily Day Parade are, left to right, Lynn Reichelderfer, president of the CHS Service-Over-Self Club; Mrs. Lois Brobst, SOS adviser; and Cheryl Mumaw, project chairman. The Lily Day Parade, sponsored by the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, will be conducted in the downtown area all-day Saturday. Contributions for the paper lilies will go to the society for local assistance and aid to crippled children and adults.

Dear Abby: Old Story — New Twist!

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice about a very touchy problem. I'm married to a man who has been in the service since 1959. We have a four-year-old son. Every month I get an allotment check for me and my son. Two years ago I met a man and we started going together. I have had two children by this other man. Since the birth of my last child (in November) I found out I no longer love this other man. I'd like to get rid of him. Can I get him to support his two children? I don't want to lose the allotment check from my husband. Can this other man cause me trouble? Sign me

"B"

DEAR "B": The laws on child support differ in various states. Your local Legal Aid Society can advise you concerning your own case. For you to accept an allotment check amid such deceit takes plenty of gall. Whether this "other man" can cause you more trouble than he has already caused you is anybody's guess. He might be just as glad to get rid of you as you are to get rid of him.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what you think of a priest

DEAR GOER: If card-playing is contrary to the rules of his church shame on the priest. Otherwise, what's good for the flock is good for the leader.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a very good-looking young woman working for him. She is 28 and has just divorced her fourth husband. When she was ready to leave the last one, she called my husband (at home) and asked if he knew the name of a good moving van company. One Saturday she called my husband at home and asked him to take her little boy to the ball game because she couldn't get her car started. I trust my husband, but I know how this little tramp operates. Should I call her and tell her to quit bothering my husband?

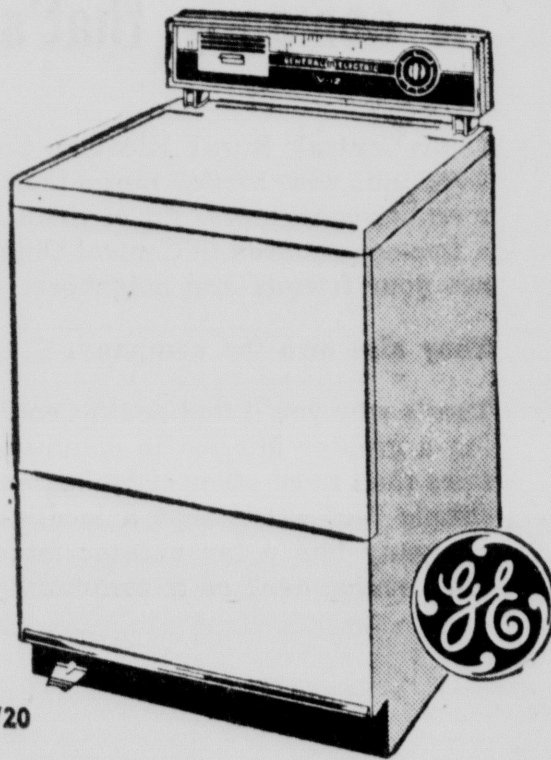

TAKING MY CHANCES
DEAR TAKING: A woman with HER experience shouldn't have to inquire about moving van companies. She should retain one on a yearly basis. No employer is "bothered" any more than he wants to be. It's your husband who should be talked to—not his employee.

Conservative GOP Battling Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some conservative Republicans who have been busy throwing sand in the gearbox now believe they have slowed down Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's drive for the 1961 GOP presidential nomination.

After the raids, armed guards were posted at the houses, and the city engineer sent crews out to board the places up.

Mayor Lawhun said of the raid that he "welcomed the sheriff's coming into the city if he had evidence of law violation."

Police Chief Frank J. Burnosky appeared during the raids and offered his aid.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A cold front attended by showers, thundershowers and strong winds moved eastward through Ohio early Wednesday night.

Temperatures dropped sharply and by sunrise today were 30 to 40 degrees below Wednesday's afternoon readings. At 6 a.m. today, Toledo reported 37, Columbus 40 and Cincinnati 38.

There will be considerable cloudiness over the state today, and strong northwesterly winds will continue. Afternoon temperatures will rise only into the 40s and low 50s.

Winds will diminish tonight and skies will clear, bringing a possibility of scattered frost by Friday morning when temperatures will be in the 30s and upper 20s.

Afternoon temperatures Friday will be a little warmer under mostly sunny skies.

Picnic Tables Removed From Eaton Area Park

EATON, Ohio (AP)—It will be all right to visit Fort St. Clair State Park off Ohio 122 west of here this summer, but picnics will be forbidden.

Roy Horner, park superintendent, said the 80 picnic tables were removed because the Ohio Historical Society did not have enough money for maintenance. Playground equipment also was dismantled.

PLANS MADE FOR LILY DAY — Pictured here making final plans for the annual Lily Day Parade are, left to right, Lynn Reichelderfer, president of the CHS Service-Over-Self Club; Mrs. Lois Brobst, SOS adviser; and Cheryl Mumaw, project chairman. The Lily Day Parade, sponsored by the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, will be conducted in the downtown area all-day Saturday. Contributions for the paper lilies will go to the society for local assistance and aid to crippled children and adults.

Dear Abby: Old Story — New Twist!

DEAR ABBY: I need some advice about a very touchy problem. I'm married to a man who has been in the service since 1959. We have a four-year-old son. Every month I get an allotment check for me and my son. Two years ago I met a man and we started going together. I have had two children by this other man. Since the birth of my last child (in November) I found out I no longer love this other man. I'd like to get rid of him. Can I get him to support his two children? I don't want to lose the allotment check from my husband. Can this other man cause me trouble? Sign me

"B": The laws on child support differ in various states. Your local Legal Aid Society can advise you concerning your own case. For you to accept an allotment check amid such deceit takes plenty of gall. Whether this "other man" can cause you more trouble than he has already caused you is anybody's guess. He might be just as glad to get rid of you as you are to get rid of him.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what you think of a priest

Notice is hereby given that Jack L. Hatzos whose Post Office address is Route 1, Laureville, Ohio, has been duly appointed Executor of the Estate of Orpha Ellen Hatzos late of Pickaway County, Ohio, deceased.

who plays cards for money. I didn't actually SEE him playing cards, but the person who told me was in the game, so I know it's true.

CHURCH-GOER
DEAR GOER: If card-playing is contrary to the rules of his church shame on the priest. Otherwise, what's good for the flock is good for the leader.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a very good-looking young woman working for him. She is 28 and has just divorced her fourth husband. When she was ready to leave the last one, she called my husband (at home) and asked if he knew the name of a good moving van company. One Saturday she called my husband at home and asked him to take her little boy to the ball game because she couldn't get her car started. I trust my husband, but I know how this little tramp operates. Should I call her and tell her to quit bothering my husband??

TAKING MY CHANCES
DEAR TAKING: A woman with HER experience shouldn't have to inquire about moving van companies. She should retain one on a yearly basis. No employer is "bothered" any more than he wants to be. It's your husband who should be talked to—not his employee.

Stop worrying. Write to Abby. For a personal reply enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Shriver Keeps Tight Rein on Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace Corps volunteers say it's no longer a novelty to look up and see Sargent Shriver approaching, even in such out of the way places as North Borneo, Ethiopia and Nepal.

The Peace Corps director keeps a tight rein on his far flung volunteers. He has been in 39 of the 50 countries where volunteers work, some of them several times.

One weary aide compared a Shriver trip with "the last week of a major political campaign — without an election at the end of it."

Shriver has logged 500,000 miles in two years as Peace Corps director, his staff says, and traveled by such varied means as jet airliners, ox carts, jeeps, rickshaws, bamboo rafts, ships, dug-out canoes and helicopters.

At 47, the President's brother-in-law is a not-so-young member of the youthful New Frontier. But he sets a pace younger Peace Corps staffers have trouble matching.

His aides say Shriver whizzes around the world, working a 20-hour day and leaving a trail of cables to Washington with orders on how to improve the Peace Corps' operations.

He checks for himself whether volunteers are doing the job. If he finds something wrong, his aides say he expects to have it corrected immediately.

Shriver has described himself as a firm believer in trying to spot the corps' mistakes before outsiders do.

Everywhere he goes, his aides say, Shriver talks to people, volunteers, natives in remote areas, heads of state, newspapermen. He says this gives him a feeling for each country and the Peace Corps mission there.

His cables reflect what he finds out. One may call for a change in Peace Corps training methods. Another might order sewing machines for a Peace Corps project, or canes for a school for blind children.

Shriver does very little sleeping on airplanes. His time is used to exchange ideas with his staff, jot down memoranda, draft letters or cables or catch up on his reading.

G-Men Hit By Judge in Gambling Case

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Charles F. Paul Jr. gave federal law enforcement officers a public dressing down here after a jury acquitted two men accused of federal anti-gambling law violations.

The jury deliberated about two hours before returning a verdict of innocent Wednesday in the case of Charles F. Teemer of Hollywood, Fla., and Dominic Caputo of Youngstown, Ohio.

Teemer and Caputo were among 13 persons indicted by a federal grand jury as a result of a raid last Feb. 16 at the Jockey Club at Chester, in the Northern Panhandle.

Charges against the other 11 defendants were dismissed earlier when Judge Paul ruled the government failed to make a case against them.

"Before you seek and obtain an indictment by a federal grand jury," Judge Paul said, "be satisfied of the following:

"1. That you understand what the federal law is.
"2. That a violation of the federal law, as opposed to the state law, has occurred.
"3. That you have enough evidence . . . to at least carry the case to the jury."

Teemer, named as the club's owner, and Caputo, were charged on two counts each of traveling from West Virginia to East Liverpool, Ohio, to deposit checks and cash from the club.

Fire Department Answers 2 Calls

Circleville Firemen were summoned twice yesterday. No serious damage was reported in either run.

At 1 p. m. the firefighters answered a call from Mildred Leist, 451 N. Court St., to check a clothes dryer. No fire or damage was evident.

The second summons was at 10:15 p. m. to the M. D. Lorentz Service Station on Lancaster Pike. Firemen said a short circuit in an electric sign caused damage estimated at $15.

Hugh Downs To Head Ohio Health Campaign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hugh Downs, the Ohio-born television personality, has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the 1963 Ohio Mental Health Committee, the Ohio Mental Health Association, Inc. has announced.

Mental Health week will be observed in Ohio April 28-May 4. Downs was born in Akron but lived most of his younger life at Lima.

HOSPITAL DAY GUESTS — Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr., parents of America's first astronaut to orbit the earth, will observe Hospital Day at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital on May 5. As "World Mother of the Year", Mrs. Glenn will represent the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs in an Honor Awards Ceremony at 2 p. m. Lowell Ferguson of Circleville is scheduled to represent the Circleville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post at the annual event.

Hollywood Premier Remains Same as Back 35 Years Ago

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The names have been changed — from Vilma Banky and Rod Laroque to Natalie Wood and Warren Beatty.

Otherwise the Hollywood premiere is virtually the same today as it was 35 years ago.

The origin of this peculiarly Hollywoodian rite is now clouded with time, but the premiere came into flower under the inspired showmanship of the late Sid Grauman. By the late 1920s, the format was set: the searchlights, the bleacher seats for cheering fans, the stars emerging from their limousines, the emcee interviews at the microphone.

Despite the sameness of the ceremony, no one has come up with a better way of stirring up hoopla for the opening of a movie. Tonight Universal will put on yet another premiere, for "The Ugly American."

One of the men in charge of the event is Dan Thomas, youngish-looking despite his 35 years as Hollywood columnist and publicity man.

"Seating requires care," he explained. "You can't seat Hedda next to Louella. Nor can you put an actor next to his ex-wives. You have to keep track of the feuds and marriages in town."

Each studio keeps a list of stars' addresses, Thomas added. Invitations are sown and accepted, and pressure is applied, if necessary, to assure that the stars of the premier picture will be present.

Assuring a good star turnout becomes an increasing problem with the years. The simple reason: fewer stars.

"Back in the old days, MGM alone had more stars than are in the movie business today," Thomas said.

Besides, many of them no longer make their homes here. Those who are working are sometimes loath to stay out late when faced with an early call.

The physical aspects of a premiere are handled by a contractor named George Gibson, who supplies the studios with the searchlights (usually a half-dozen), about four broads (lights to brighten the lobby for photographers), red carpet, platform, public address system, draping and bleachers for 400. Manpower includes a dozen city police for street traffic, a half-dozen studio police for lobby traffic, 20 parking boys, eight electricians and a platoon of press agents.

Cost of a premiere can range from a rock-bottom $4,500 to a splashy $20,000. Despite the movie companies' skimpy economies, they still make the outlay. If the premiere ever vanishes, so will Hollywood.

WED APRIL 10 — Actor Chuck Connors and actress Kamala Devi have their coffee on the floor in Hollywood as they talk about plans to furnish their new home for the April 10 wedding date. They met while making the film "Geronimo." She is of Indian-English parentage. Her father and mother live in Bombay.

U.S., Romania Plan Cultural Exchange

IENNA (AP) — The United States and Romania have concluded a cultural agreement for 1963-64, Radio Bucharest reported today.

The agreement, signed in Bucharest Tuesday, provides for an exchange of teachers, technical experts and sportsmen. The two countries will also exchange radio and television programs, films, books and magazines, the broadcast said.

It was a criminal offense to print a newspaper exceeding 22 inches by 32 inches as late as 1818 in England.

Island Gets Nod for Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House Conservation Committee has unanimously recommended House adoption of a resolution authorizing a study of means to prevent further erosion of a floating island in Buckeye Lake known as Cranberry Marsh.

Scientists' testimony before the committee termed the floating island a bit of Northern Canada transplanted to Central Ohio by the last ice age. Both plant and animal life on the island normally are not observed in this area, they testified.

Conservationists and biological scientists have become alarmed in recent years that the continued action of ice and the wakes of motorboats might eventually break up the island. It is made up largely of moss held together by entwined roots.

Ice-covered Antarctica is a waterless land. Annual precipitation is equivalent to only four inches of rain, two more than that of Death Valley.

KEEPS ASTRONAUTS FALLING RIGHT—The sketches illustrate the Ballute, or drag balloon, which Goodyear is making for Project Gemini. It would come into play safelywise if trouble developed in the early or late stage of the space flight. The astronaut would be ejected along with his seat, and the Ballute, built into the seat, would inflate in a fraction of a second and keep the man from rolling and pitching until he reached a lower altitude at which a conventional parachute could be used. A company that's owned at home...lives at home

South-Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc. now serves more than 20,000 member-consumers. All of them live in a five-county area in Central Ohio. They are your friends and neighbors.

They also own the company.

That's why you'll find South-Central taking a greater interest in community affairs than most other organizations. The simple fact exists that a locally-owned company has a far greater interest in the development of a community than any "foreign" investor could possibly have.

Because the consumers of the company's product and the owners of the company are one and the same — and they're both right here; interest in local school systems, local government, churches, granges, fairs — is an integral part of both the company and its consumers. And that lively interest means growth — company growth and community growth.

Knaub, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gunlock, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Dearth, John Jr. and Mary Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Crego and children, Carolyn, Roger, Connie, Kathy, and Robert, Mrs. David Kern, Jeffrey and Kevin from Mansfield, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dearth, from Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ealy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shaw, Scott and Kevin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dickerschied, Annette, Dan, and Pam.

From Wilmington, Dr. and Mrs. James McMullen Malinda and John; Stoutsville, Mr. Jeff Evans, Circleville, Mrs. Clyde Eakin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dresbach from Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dearth, Debbie and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bowsher, Mrs. Grace Dearth, Mr. and Mrs. Delano Hynes and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Orley Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Leland Yapie.

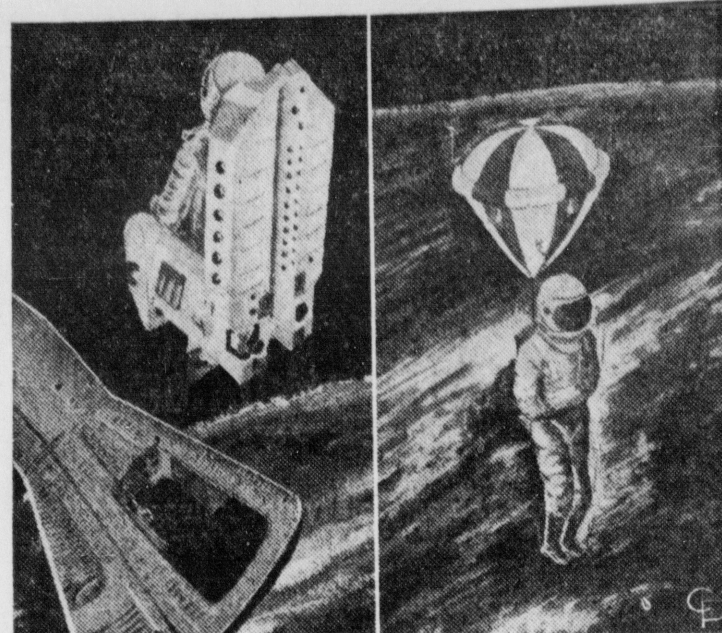

Island Gets Nod for Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio House Conservation Committee has unanimously recommended House adoption of a resolution authorizing a study of means to prevent further erosion of a floating island in Buckeye Lake known as Cranberry Marsh.

Scientists' testimony before the committee termed the floating island a bit of Northern Canada transplanted to Central Ohio by the last ice age. Both plant and animal life on the island normally are not observed in this area, they testified.

Conservationists and biological scientists have become alarmed in recent years that the continued action of ice and the wakes of motorboats might eventually break up the island. It is made up largely of moss held together by entwined roots.

Ice-covered Antarctica is a waterless land. Annual precipitation is equivalent to only four inches of rain, two more than that of Death Valley.

KEEPS ASTRONAUTS FALLING RIGHT—The sketches illustrate the Ballute, or drag balloon, which Goodyear is making for Project Gemini. It would come into play safelywise if trouble developed in the early or late stage of the space flight. The astronaut would be ejected along with his seat, and the Ballute, built into the seat, would inflate in a fraction of a second and keep the man from rolling and pitching until he reached a lower altitude at which a conventional parachute could be used. A company that's owned at home...lives at home

South-Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc. now serves more than 20,000 member-consumers. All of them live in a five-county area in Central Ohio. They are your friends and neighbors.

They also own the company.

That's why you'll find South-Central taking a greater interest in community affairs than most other organizations. The simple fact exists that a locally-owned company has a far greater interest in the development of a community than any "foreign" investor could possibly have.

Because the consumers of the company's product and the owners of the company are one and the same — and they're both right here; interest in local school systems, local government, churches, granges, fairs — is an integral part of both the company and its consumers. And that lively interest means growth — company growth and community growth.

Tiger Thinclads Drop Meet At Groveport

Circleville's Wood Wins Four Events In 65-52 Loss

The Circleville High School track team dropped the first meet of the season, 65-52, to Groveport, in spite of an outstanding individual effort by sophomore Jimmie Wood.

Wood won both hurdle events, the 220-yard dash and the broad jump.

His times in the hurdles, 15.8 seconds in the highs and 20.7 in the lows, are already better than the times posted in the South Central Ohio league track meet last year. He won the low event in 21.1 and placed second in the high which was run in 15.9.

Circleville's other first was a 5-18.9 mile turned in by Lyman England.

CARL BENHASE, Tiger mentor, reported he was satisfied with the showing of the track team yesterday.

Wood and Howard Fletcher, second in the shot with a heave of 43'10" and third in the discus, are the only returning lettermen who competed yesterday.

"When the four lettermen who did not participate get in good physical condition, we will be much stronger," Benhase reported.

One of the closer races of the day was in the 880-yard run. Steve Bowers, a junior, finished just two seconds behind Keller of Groveport who won in 2.20.

Ted Williams Is Unchanged

Splendid Splinter Is Still Outspoken

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — If Ted Williams has changed, it isn't discernable to the naked eye or sensitive ear.

Outspoken, forthright, explosive, intense, inquisitive, nervous and controversial, the big guy is as interesting as ever as he discusses baseball and baseball players, asking as many questions as he answers.

Sitting down, standing up, smiling, frowning, swearing, making sweet talk, gesturing, moving about but constantly talking, the great slugger relived his glory days with the Boston Red Sox.

"I have no regrets," he began. "I don't think I'd do a single thing differently if I were starting out again—except maybe concentrate a bit more on fielding. And I certainly wouldn't feel any different about most of you writers," he added defiantly.

Except for a slight paunchiness around the middle and some lines on his ruggedly handsome face, Williams at 44 looks about the same as he did when he retired as an active player at the end of the 1960 season.

"You writers haven't changed a bit," he shouted. "Only the other day, a guy asked me to discuss present day hitters. I told him there wasn't a hitter in the big leagues who couldn't improve and that went for guys like Mickey Mantle, Willie Mays or anybody. The guy made it appear that I was criticizing Mantle and Mays. I never intended that."

"I wrote to both Mantle and Mays telling them exactly what I said. I regard Mantle and Mays as among the greatest hitters I've ever seen. Those guys are super stars."

Now a special batting instructor to Red Sox players, Williams admitted he misses the thrills of his 20 turbulent years with the Red Sox.

"I think I can still hit," he declared, "but if I tried to run I'd probably have a heart attack. I quit when I had to after playing as long as I could."

Teays Valley Baseballers Host West Jefferson Unit in Opener

The Teays Valley High School baseball Vikings are scheduled to open today by hosting West Jefferson in a Darby Valley League contest.

Veteran coach Russ Gregg has given the starting mound nod to Gary Ferguson, a lefthanded senior. Kenny Reese will handle the receiving chores.

Rounding out the infield will be Bob Khulwein at first base, John Rush on second, Mitchell Clay at third and Jim Albright at shortstop.

The starting out-field will consist of Jon Hudson, Jim Daft and Bob Roof.

Other Vikings participating in the hardball sport are Jim Pickering, Roger Moody, Bary McCain, Tom Woods, Ron Lahmer, Melvin Fridley, Gary Walter, Jim Ramsey, Ron Wilkins, Charles Conrad, Dale Davis, Eddie Forson, Joe Puluso, Claude Taylor and Dan Webster.

The Teays Valley varsity baseball diamond is situated to take advantage of the lights on the athletic field. Five night games are currently scheduled.

The first night tilt is May 6 when the Vikings host Circleville.

In listing the schedule, Gregg pointed out that in cases of rescheduling, league games take priority over non-league tilts.

Here is the proposed schedule:

April 4, West Jefferson, April 11, at Jonathan Alder, April 15, Salem, at Jonathan Alder April 15, Salem, April 29, at Cedarville, May 2 at Greenville, May 6, Circleville (N) May 10, Hamilton (N), May 13 Triad, May 16, at Columbus South, May 20, The Plains (N), May 25, Washington C. H. (N), May 26, Pleasant Vire (N).

TV Cindermen Open Tomorrow At Groveport

Marlon Waites, head track mentor at Teays Valley High school, announced today that his team is ready for its first meet of the season tomorrow at Groveport.

With 40 boys out for the cinder sport, Waites reports the Vikings should have good depth in all events although he feels he has no outstanding individual performers.

Jack Weikert is assisting Waites with the coaching duties. He handles all field events.

Although County Superintendent George McDowell had earlier reported Teays Valley would participate in the county track meet scheduled May 4, Waites said the team will not take part.

He noted although the Vikings did not promise to be a real strong team this year it was unfair to compete against the smaller county schools. Teays Valley is a Class AA school.

Here is a list of the meets currently scheduled:

Lone Catcher Now Available To Cleveland

MODSTA, Calif. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians are down to one catcher for the next few exhibition games.

Regular receiver John Romano has an inflammation of the groin caused by a foul tip. He was not in uniform at Fresno Wednesday during the Indians' 4-3 loss to the San Francisco Giants, and he has been ordered to remain in civvies for today's game here.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts is hoping his regular receiver will be ready by opening day.

Third-string Catcher Bob Lipski has an extremely sore toe, also caused by a foul tip, and he too is on the sidelines. Doc Edwards is the only healthy catcher.

Although the Indians lost their last three games to the Giants, Tebbetts remained pleased with his pitching. "I thought the score would be much bigger yesterday and that went for guys like Mickey Mantle, Willie Mays or anybody. The guy made it appear that I was criticizing Mantle and Mays. I never intended that."

"I wrote to both Mantle and Mays telling them exactly what I said. I regard Mantle and Mays as among the greatest hitters I've ever seen. Those guys are super stars."

Koufax Gives Lackluster Hill Showing

Dodger Dandy Yields 11 Runs in 18 Innings Although Injury Heals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An apparent communications breakdown between Sandy Koufax's delicate finger and his arm continued Wednesday as the fireballing Los Angeles left-hander came up with his third consecutive lackluster performance in a 3-2 exhibition loss to Boston at Scottsdale.

The 27-year-old southpaw strike-out artist has pronounced the numb finger that sidelined him from July to September last season completely healed, but the arm that made the Dodger dandy the talk of the baseball world doesn't appear to have received the message.

Although the finger has caused no trouble, Koufax has not been sharp in his last three outings, giving up 11 runs in 18 innings. The Red Sox touched him for all their runs on six hits, including a double and triple by Roman Mejias.

Koufax also walked three batters while striking out only three, far below his usual one-an-inning clip.

Jim Maloney and Jim Brosnan each allowed only one hit in Cincinnati's 5-0 shut out of the New York Mets at Tampa and Denny LeMaster and Tony Cloninger combined for a five-hitter as Milwaukee edged Baltimore 3-2 at West Palm Beach.

In other games, San Francisco defeated Cleveland 4-3 at Fresno, Detroit nipped Minnesota 5-4 at Lakeland, Kansas City belted the Chicago White Sox 10-5 at Sarasota, Pittsburgh took the New York Yankees 6-4 at Fort Myers, St. Louis whipped Washington 6-4 at St. Petersburg and Houston downed the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 at Porterville, Calif.

Vada Pinson stroked two hits for Cincinnati, one a run-producing double. Larry Burright and Ed Kranepool got the Mets' hits.

LeMaster held the Orioles to three hits in seven innings before Cloninger finished up. The Braves clinched it with two runs off Milt Pappas in the fifth inning.

The Giants won in the ninth when Indians' outfielder Walter Bond dropped a line drive by Willie Mays and enabled Harvey Kuenn to score. Bubba Phillips stroked three hits and Jake Wood drove in the decisive run with a fifth inning single as the Tigers held off the Twins.

The A's pounced on White Sox pitchers Juan Pizarro, Herb Score and Mike Joyce for 15 hits. Roberto Clemente slammed two triples, Julio Gotay collected three singles and Bob Skinner two singles and a double in the Pirates' triumph over the Yankees.

Triples by Julian Javier, Gene Oliver and Ken Boyer powered the Cardinals while solid relief pitching by Harry Fanok and Bobby Shantz stifled the Senators.

Pete Runnels, last year's American League batting champion, and rookie Leslie Staub each homered in the sixth inning as the Colts beat the Angels.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants leads the active National League players in stolen bases with 240 in 11 years.

ANOTHER HUDEPOHL SPORTS PRESENTATION

That's my opinion ...what's yours?

BY ED KENNEDY

April 8th is "Opening Day" in Cincinnati as the Reds begin what they hope will be a successful pennant drive.

Pitching the Opener has been considered something of an honor in the past, although not too much can really be read into the assignment. The weather, the opposition, the park and the immediate schedule all have plenty to do with who makes the first pitch. The practical aspects of winning and losing outweigh the "honorary" considerations. Don't tell Jimmy O'Toole that, though. O'Toole came to spring training and announced that he was going to pitch the Opener and intended to have 10 victories by the first of July; a crisp challenge to every other pitcher on the staff as if to say, "The best pitcher down here this spring deserves to be first and I intend to be that pitcher."

O'Toole has been a notoriously slow starter for the Reds. In 1961 he won 11 of his 19 games after mid-June. Last year he won 10 of 16 after July 1st. What he's looking for is momentum, and he has challenged himself. Like any true "son of the auld sod" O'Toole could be a mite superstitious, too. Jim won the Opener in '61 and the Reds won the pennant. The last time the Reds had won the pennant, Paul Derringer had won the Opener in 1940.

Generally, you can't attach too much significance to an Opening Day Game. But if your name is Jimmy O'Toole and you think it's about time you had a 20 game season, it may be a very big game, and could be the tip-off on the pennant race ... That's my Opinion ... What's Yours???

(14K)

Hudie, by the way, will be on hand with the Opener for the 8th straight season. Sounds like a perfect combination, doesn't it? Hudie and an opener: the best way to start any season.

'63 Muskie Club Gets Candidate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—H. H. Bridges of Columbus is the first candidate of the year for the Ohio Muskie Club.

Bridges pulled in a 31½-inch, 7-pound 5-ounce muskie from the waters of Hoover Reservoir March 24. The reservoir is northeast of Columbus in Franklin and Delaware counties.

The catch was reported shortly after the second annual dinner of the club sponsored by the Ohio Division of Wildlife. To qualify for a certificate of full membership, an angler must catch a muskie weighing at least 20 pounds and being 40 inches long. A 30-inch muskie is the minimum for an honorable mention, for which Bridges qualified.

The unofficial "king" of Ohio muskie fishermen is Dr. Laverne G. Dunmire, Barnesville physician who received two regular membership certificates and two honorable mention citations for muskies taken from Piedmont Reservoir in 1962.

John M. Charley of Akron received the first certificate of the year in recognition of his state-record, 31-pound muskie, taken in Deer Creek Reservoir.

County fish and game hearings have been scheduled for April in all six wildlife districts. The state hearing is set for June 27.

An estimated 1,500 to 2,000 whistling swans are resting and feeding in the marshes along Lake Erie, wildlife biologist Karl Bed-narik reports. This is a large concentration, but less than half the tremendous buildup which occurred last spring.

Darrell Allison, district fish management supervisor in the Findlay area, said three or four warm days start the crappies on their spring feeding spree. "Fishing with minnows for crappies is an annual spring tonic," he claims. He advises those wanting some of the tonic to go to the southern side of East Harbor and the Portage River west of Port Clinton.

East Harbor in Ottawa County is a famous fishing spot for largemouth bass, bluegills, perch and others, but there is a fine crappie population present and these fish can be found now right out from the docks and pilings in rather shallow water.

Wood ducks now are nesting at Killdeer Plains wildlife area in Wyandot County. And Canada geese are building nests and incubating eggs at the Mercer County Waterfowl Refuge.

Nine lots in the Bristol Park allotment and one on Minnewaiken Island, Indian Lake, Logan County, are to be offered for sale to the highest bidder at a public auction April 120 at 10 a. m. at the Courthouse in Bellefontaine. The property is state-owned and has been declared surplus.

Royals Lose Advantage in NBA Playoff

CINCINNATI (AP) — A little more than 24 hours ago hopes of the Cincinnati Royals for an Eastern Division National Basketball Association playoff championship looked bright. Today they look dark and even Coach Charley Wolf admits his club may be in trouble.

It all came about Wednesday night when the perennial division playoff champion Boston Celtics soundly thumped the Royals on the neutral Xavier University court, 128-110.

The decision evened the best-of-seven series at two games each, and even if the playoff should go the full seven games, two of the remaining three would have to be played in Boston.

But that presents a strange picture. Both Cincinnati victories have been won in Boston while the Celtics' two triumphs have been won here.

Wolf had this to say after Wednesday night's game:

"Now it boils down to us having to take two out of three, with two of the games in Boston, so they've got to be considered to have the upper hand at this point."

"It will be extremely hard for us Saturday night (when the fifth game is played in Boston) because of the best of my knowledge they haven't lost three home games in a row all season."

The now necessary sixth game will be played Sunday at the Cincinnati Garden.

MODSTA, Calif. (AP) — The Cleveland Indians are down to one catcher for the next few exhibition games.

Regular receiver John Romano has an inflammation of the groin caused by a foul tip. He was not in uniform at Fresno Wednesday during the Indians' 4-3 loss to the San Francisco Giants, and he has been ordered to remain in civvies for today's game here.

Manager Birdie Tebbets is hoping his regular receiver will be ready by opening day.

Third-string Catcher Bob Lipski has an extremely sore toe, also caused by a foul tip, and he too is on the sidelines. Doc Edwards is the only healthy catcher.

Although the Indians lost their last three games to the Giants, Tebbets remained pleased with his pitching. "I thought the score would be much bigger yesterday in Fresno," he said, "because the crowd overflowed onto the field. We lost on field, not because of the pitching."

Koufax Gives Lackluster Hill Showing

Dodger Dandy Yields 11 Runs in 18 Innings Although Injury Heals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An apparent communications breakdown between Sandy Koufax's delicate finger and his arm continued Wednesday as the fireballing Los Angeles left-hander came up with his third consecutive lackluster performance in a 3-2 exhibition loss to Boston at Scottsdale.

The 27-year-old southpaw strike-out artist has pronounced the numb finger that sidelined him from July to September last season completely healed, but the arm that made the Dodger dandy the talk of the baseball world doesn't appear to have received the message.

Although the finger has caused no trouble, Koufax has not been sharp in his last three outings, giving up 11 runs in 18 innings. The Red Sox touched him for all their runs on six hits, including a double and triple by Roman Mejias.

Koufax also walked three batters while striking out only three, far below his usual one-an-inning clip.

Jim Maloney and Jim Brosnan each allowed only one hit in Cincinnati's 5-0 shut out of the New York Mets at Tampa and Denny LeMaster and Tony Cloninger combined for a five-hitter as Milwaukee edged Baltimore 3-2 at West Palm Beach.

In other games, San Francisco defeated Cleveland 4-3 at Fresno, Detroit nipped Minnesota 5-4 at Lakeland, Kansas City belted the Chicago White Sox 10-5 at Sarasota, Pittsburgh took the New York Yankees 6-4 at Fort Myers, St. Louis whipped Washington 6-4 at St. Petersburg and Houston downed the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 at Porterville, Calif.

Vada Pinson stroked two hits for Cincinnati, one a run-producing double. Larry Burright and Ed Kranepool got the Mets' hits.

LeMaster held the Orioles to three hits in seven innings before Cloninger finished up. The Braves clinched it with two runs off Milt Pappas in the fifth inning.

The Giants won in the ninth when Indians' outfielder Walter Bond dropped a line drive by Willie Mays and enabled Harvey Kuenn to score. Bubba Phillips stroked three hits and Jake Wood drove in the decisive run with a fifth inning single as the Tigers held off the Twins.

The A's pounced on White Sox pitchers Juan Pizarro, Herb Score and Mike Joyce for 15 hits. Roberto Clemente slammed two triples, Julio Gotay collected three singles and Bob Skinner two singles and a double in the Pirates' triumph over the Yankees.

Triples by Julian Javier, Gene Oliver and Ken Boyer powered the Cardinals while solid relief pitching by Harry Fanok and Bobby Shantz stifled the Senators.

Pete Runnels, last year's American League batting champion, and rookie Leslie Staub each homered in the sixth inning as the Colts beat the Angels.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants leads the active National League players in stolen bases with 240 in 11 years.

'63 Muskie Club Gets Candidate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—H. H. Bridges of Columbus is the first candidate of the year for the Ohio Muskie Club.

Bridges pulled in a 31½-inch, 7-pound 5-ounce muskie from the waters of Hoover Reservoir March 24. The reservoir is northeast of Columbus in Franklin and Delaware counties.

The catch was reported shortly after the second annual dinner of the club sponsored by the Ohio Division of Wildlife. To qualify for a certificate of full membership, an angler must catch a muskie weighing at least 20 pounds and being 40 inches long. A 30-inch muskie is the minimum for an honorable mention, for which Bridges qualified. 2

The unofficial "king" of Ohio muskie fishermen is Dr. Laverne G. Dummire, Barnesville physician who received two regular membership certificates and two honorable mention citations for muskies taken from Piedmont Reservoir in 1962.

John M. Charley of Akron received the first certificate of the year in recognition of his state-record, 31-pound muskie, taken in Deer Creek Reservoir.

County fish and game hearings have been scheduled for April in all six wildlife districts. The state hearing is set for June 27.

An estimated 1,500 to 2,000 whistling swans are resting and feeding in the marshes along Lake Erie, wildlife biologist Karl Bed-narik reports. This is a large concentration, but less than half the tremendous buildup which occurred last spring.

Darrell Allison, district fish management supervisor in the Findlay area, said three or four warm days start the crappies on their spring feeding spree. "Fishing with minnows for crappies is an annual spring tonic," he claims. He advises those wanting some of the tonic to go to the southern side of East Harbor and the Portage River west of Port Clinton.

East Harbor in Ottawa County is a famous fishing spot for largemouth bass, bluegills, perch and others, but there is a fine crappie population present and these fish can be found now right out from the docks and pilings in rather shallow water.

Wood ducks now are nesting at Killdeer Plains wildlife area in Wyandot County. And Canada geese are building nests and incubating eggs at the Mercer County Waterfowl Refuge.

Nine lots in the Bristol Park allotment and one on Minnewauken Island, Indian Lake, Logan County, are to be offered for sale to the highest bidder at a public auction April 120 at 10 a. m. at the Courthouse in Bellefontaine. The property is state-owned and has been declared surplus.

Royals Lose Advantage in NBA Playoff

CINCINNATI (AP) — A little more than 24 hours ago hopes of the Cincinnati Royals for an Eastern Division National Basketball Association playoff championship looked bright. Today they look dark and even Coach Charley Wolf admits his club may be in trouble.

It all came about Wednesday night when the perennial division playoff champion Boston Celtics soundly thumped the Royals on the neutral Xavier University court, 128-110.

The decision evened the best-of-seven series at two games each, and even if the playoff should go the full seven games, two of the remaining three would have to be played in Boston.

But that presents a strange picture. Both Cincinnati victories have been won in Boston while the Celtics' two triumphs have been won here.

Wolf had this to say after Wednesday night's game:

"Now it boils down to us having to take two out of three, with two of the games in Boston, so they've got to be considered to have the upper hand at this point."

"It will be extremely hard for us Saturday night (when the fifth game is played in Boston) because to the best of my knowledge they haven't lost three home games in a row all season."

The now necessary sixth game will be played Sunday at the Cincinnati Garden.

ANOTHER HUDEPOHL
SPORTS PRESENTATION
That's my opinion
...what's yours?
BY ED KENNEDY

April 8th is "Opening Day" in Cincinnati as the Reds begin what they hope will be a successful pennant drive.

Pitching the Opener has been considered something of an honor in the past, although not too much can really be read into the assignment. The weather, the opposition, the park and the immediate schedule all have plenty to do with who makes the first pitch. The practical aspects of winning and losing outweigh the "honorary" considerations. Don't tell Jimmy O'Toole that, though. O'Toole came to spring training and announced that he was going to pitch the Opener and intended to have 10 victories by the first of July: a crisp challenge to every other pitcher on the staff as if to say, "The best pitcher down here this spring deserves to be first and I intend to be that pitcher."

O'Toole has been a notoriously slow starter for the Reds. In 1961 he won 11 of his 19 games after mid-June. Last year he won 10 of 16 after July 1st. What he's looking for is momentum, and he has challenged himself. Like any true "son of the auld sod" O'Toole could be a mite superstitious, too. Jim won the Opener in '61 and the Reds won the pennant. The last time the Reds had won the Opener, Paul Derringer had won the Opener in 1940.

Generally, you can't attach too much significance to an Opening Day Game. But if your name is Jimmy O'Toole and you think it's about time you had a 20 game season, it may be a very big game, and could be the tip-off on the pennant race . . . That's my Opinion . . . What's Yours???

14K

Hudie, by the way, will be on hand with the Opener for the 8th straight season. Sounds like a perfect combination, doesn't it? Hudie and an opener: the best way to start any season.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California urges tough new laws to curb what he calls a "jungle of billboards" along the state's highways.

Bills to be submitted to the legislature would prohibit billboards along major state and federal highways except those signs which give motorists necessary information, such as where to obtain food, lodging or fuel.

Sgt. Alvin C. York, 75, hero of World War I, is back home at Pall Mall, Tenn., well rested after a 6-day stay in St. Thomas Hospital at Nashville.

York, bedridden for more than a year, suffered a bruised rib last week after rolling out of his mechanical bed at home.

British historian Arnold Toynbee, predicting the end of war, says that for the first time in history the alternative to abolishing war is the destruction of all or a part of humanity.

Lecturing at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., Toynbee said:

"This is quite a new situation, and I believe it is going to stimulate the human race to abolish the institution of war."

Mrs. Mattie Oden, of Richard City, Tenn., who says she is 111, has discovered she is eligible for a month Social Security pension.

Social Security officials have given her a check for $640 to cover back payments she missed.

Lt. Gen. Theodore W. Parker of the U.S. Army has been named chief of staff for Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, supreme Allied commander, in Paris.

Pickaway Grange

SCIOTO

Scioto Grange No. 2456 will meet tonight.

Refreshments will be served by the men with the following committee in charge, Elbert Becker, James Hastings and Orban Burchwell.

Tickets for the County Grange Banquet, set Saturday at the Grange and 4-H Building, may be obtained from Kenneth Beach or Ernest Bidwell.

It was also announced the dues are payable to the secretary.

MT. PLEASANT

Mt. Pleasant Grange will meet 8 p. m. next Wednesday in the Wayne Twp. School.

STAR GRANGE

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Worthy Master Carroll Reid presiding over the business session. The secretary, Helen Schleich, read a thank you note from Mrs. R. Richard Phillips and announced two candidates were to be voted upon. The first and second degrees will be conferred at the next meeting on Tuesday.

A contribution was made to Easter Seals for crippled children and to CARE for the blind school in Korea.

Mrs. Francis Furniss reminded the group of the Monroe Basketball Banquet to be held Saturday and urged all members to help serve.

The lecturer, Harold Furniss, presented the program entitled, "Springtime". It opened with group singing of "Bud and Bloom". Mrs. Frederick Overly gave a reading, "When Winter Melts Away" and Mr. Furniss announced an Agri-Business Technology, a two-year course to develop technically trained personnel for agricultural related industries to be held at Springfield, in Clark County.

Mrs. Allen Folliott gave a reading, "Springtime in Our Hearts" by Vera Hardman. A round table discussion followed on gardening and the different kinds of gardens preferred by the members. Mrs. Shirley Anderson, Carroll Reid and Mrs. Lloyd Neff gave some interesting comments about gardening. The program closed with the thought for the day by the chaplain, Mrs. Francis Furniss.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Russell Shannon and daughter, Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shobert, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fry and daughter Carolyn.

Stoutsville Fire Department Planning Instruction Course

The 24 members of the Clearcreek Fire Department at Stoutsville are beginning an organized course of instruction to improve local fire protection.

Through the efforts of volunteers, a fire service training instructor has been obtained to give 30 hours of instruction to local firemen. The instructor, Capt. Immell of the Kingston Fire Department, will conduct weekly sessions. Certificates will be awarded to men who successfully complete the course of instruction.

Services of the instructor are made available by the Trade and Industrial Vocational Education Service of the State Department of Education as a part of the public service training program. The first course will start 7 p. m. Monday.

Accord Near In Cleveland News Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—With the last holdout union settled, ratification of a contract agreement tonight by members of the Printers Union apparently would pave the way to getting Cleveland's strike-bound newspapers on the streets by Monday.

The more than one million residents of the greater Cleveland area have been without their regular daily papers for 126 days in the longest strike ever to hit a city of this size. The New York newspaper strike lasted 114 days.

The Plain Dealer and the Press and News have been idled since Nov. 29. Last union to reach agreement was the 14-member Machinists local, which came to terms early today after a five-hour night bargaining session. James Lafelice, business agent, said the members will vote on the agreement Friday. He declined to disclose terms, although it was known the union previously had agreed to wage increases of $10 a week over two years.

Negotiations over fringe benefits had delayed final agreement.

The Teamsters Union, which started the strike, gave final ratification to its new contract Wednesday night. The contract was to be signed today in the offices of Mayor Ralph S. Locher, who helped mediate that agreement as well as key pacts with the Newspaper Guild, which struck Nov. 30, and the Printers Union, which struck Jan. 28.
